

Dems Tell Of 1967 Ambitions

Forecast Bruising Albany Session

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Democratic leaders in the Legislature have served notice on their Republican counterparts that the 1967 legislative session will be as bruising a this year's.

Assembly Speaker Anthony Travia and Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki unveiled Sunday a "partial" list of Democratic aims for the 1967 Legislature, which convenes Jan. 4.

66 Proposals

The "partial" program contained 66 proposals, including some that are certain to draw fire from the GOP. Among those are plans for compulsory health insurance for all workers in the state and fee tuition for students attending the City University of New York.

The Legislature's Republican leaders, Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges and Assembly Minority Leader Perry Duryea, are expected to reveal the GOP program this week.

Republican Gov. Rockefeller will outline his legislative proposals in his annual "State of the State" message at the opening session. Much of Rockefeller's program, however, was made public during his re-election campaign.

No Hint of Compromise

Although the members of the Legislature are expected to operate in the coming year with part of their attention focused on the Constitutional Convention, which convenes April 4, the program set forth by Travia and Zaretzki showed little evidence of early compromise with the GOP.

The two party leaders, in a joint statement, said to proposals were "designed to continue the solid record of accomplishment" begun when Democrats took majority control of both houses in 1965.

Republicans controlled the Senate this year and will continue in control of that house next year. The Democrats have retained control of the Assembly.

Travia and Zaretzki said they would push for replacement of the state's Condon-Wadlin Law, the statute that regulates labor relations among governmental employees.

Agreed About Changes

Both parties have agreed the law needs to be changed because it is so strict that employers are reluctant to use it.

Travia and Zaretzki generally set forth their program in broad terms and did not spell out in detail how the various objectives would be reached or financed.

Included in this category was the promise to increase state aid for school-district operating expenses.

Education groups have asked for an extra $100 million above the amount mandated, which (Continued on Page 39, Col. 5)

11 GOPers State Reasons For Fitzsimmons' Support

Following the reappointment of County Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons to a five-year term Friday night by a 21 to 12 vote, a statement was issued on behalf of the Republican members of the board who had supported Fitzsimmons, in which they stated their reasons for supporting his reappointment.

All of the Republican supervisors except Supervisor Robert F. Phinney of the 11th ward joined in the statement. In addition to the 20 Republican supervisors, Supervisor James J. Carroll (D), of the 10th ward voted with the Republicans for reappointment of Fitzsimmons.

The statement from the 11 Republican Supervisors with respect to Commissioner Fitzsimmons follows:

"We who have supported the appointment of Commissioner Fitzsimmons for a five year term as Ulster County Commis-

ANYONE KNOW THIS WOMAN? — This is an artists sketch taken from a picture of the woman whose body was found floating in the Hudson river at West Park Dec. 2, 1966 at 1 p. m. Sheriff William B. Martin has made an appeal to anyone who may have known this woman to contact his office. The body was found close to shore at West Park and thus far there has been no clue to identity. It is believed she may have fallen from a ship plying the Hudson river. The woman is white, five feet seven inches tall, weighing 150 pounds. She is believed to be between 40 and 45 years of age with brown eyes and brown hair, wearing a black sleeveless dress and a light colored sleeveless blouse. A Lane-Bryant label in the dress is the only mark of identity. She wore no coat. Pinned to her underclothing was a large sum of money. Sketch, which Sheriff William B. Martin hopes will identify the lady in the morgue, was made from a photograph taken of the corpse by his department. It was executed by a New Jersey prisoner now in the Ulster County jail.

See $500,000 More To County Tax Levy

While the total estimated appropriations for operation of the county government is up approximately $2,000,000 for 1967 over 1966, additional revenues and the crediting of approximately $550,000 in surpluses will leave an estimated $5,165,399.75 to be raised by local tax levy. This is slightly less than $500,000 over the 1966 tax levy.

Two items in the budget account for practically all of the increase. They are medical aid to the aged and Permanent Personal registration.

Hearing Next Monday

It is estimated that Medicare and the State Medicaid will account for approximately $400,000 of the increase and the Permanent Personal registration program which will go into effect this year and cost approximately $100,000.

A public hearing on the 1967 budget will be held at the County Office Building on next Monday, Dec. 19, at 7 p. m. Equalization rates for the city of Kingston and the 20 townships of the county were fixed by the Board of Supervisors at last Friday's meeting. The resolution fixing the rates was offered by Supervisor Lester S. Davis (R), Olive, chairman of the Committee on Equalization.

37 Rate for Kingston
Kingston City received a rate of 37, the same rate which the city enjoyed for 1966. After the board of supervisors had fixed a rate of 35, Mayor Raymond W. Garrahan took exception to that rate and carried the matter to the State Equalization Board where he was successful in obtaining a two point increase for city property owners, making the 1966 rate 37. This fight to obtain a better rate for Kingston taxpayers was delegated by Mayor Garrahan to Walter Donnaruma, who succeeded in getting the more favorable rate for the city. The 37 per cent rate obtained last year through the efforts of the mayor is being continued for the year 1967.

Ike's Prospects Termed Excellent After Surgery

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's condition was reported "good" and his recovery prospect "excellent" after surgeons removed his gall bladder today, Walter Reed Army Hospital said.

Surgeons who operated on the 76-year-old five-star general said his heart action was "normal" during the operation that lasted an hour and 45 minutes.

Eisenhower in the past 10 years had suffered two major heart attacks and the decision to remove his gall bladder with its "multiple" gall stones was in part aimed at avoiding any further strain on his heart.

The report on Eisenhower's condition came from the operating team in answer to written questions submitted by newsmen.

No Stones in Duct
The surgical team, headed by Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, said there were gall stones in the gall bladder but "no stones" were found in the common bile duct, the major channel of bile from the liver and gall bladder to the intestines.

The presence of stones in the common bile duct would have been potentially a more serious situation than evidently was found in Eisenhower's case.

The surgeons said that the operation disclosed that Eisenhower had "previous trouble" with the gall bladder — apparently before the recent diagnosis that led to the surgery.

Family Kept Informed
Mamie Eisenhower, son John, and Dr. Milton Eisenhower — the general's brother — were in the hospital ward and "they were kept informed periodically as to the progress of surgery," the surgeon reported.

"Gen. Heaton informed them of the general's condition when the surgery was over," they said.

The doctors said that for the present, no visitor except immediate members of the family would be permitted.

No Transfusions
"President Johnson has been very solicitous and as soon as the surgery was completed, Adm. Burkle, physician to the President, was informed of the details," the surgeon said.

They reported that no blood transfusion were given during the operation.

On a question as to whether the gall bladder was considerably inflamed and swollen, "the gall bladder showed signs of recurrent inflammation,"

Appoint Aldrich To River Valley Commission Post

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Alexander Aldrich is leaving his $25,000-a-year post as special assistant to his cousin, Gov. Rockefeller, to become executive director of the state's Hudson River Valley Commission.

Starts Next Week
Commission Chairman Frank Wells McCabe, an Albany banker, announced Aldrich's appointment Sunday in a release through Rockefeller's office.

A spokesman said Aldrich's salary with the commission had not been determined. He will assume the duties next week.

Aldrich, 38, sought Republican nomination for Congress in the 28th District last spring. He lost a bruising primary battle to Hamilton Fish, Jr.

Aldrich joined the Rockefeller administration in 1960 as director of the State Youth Division and became executive assistant to Rockefeller in September 1963. He resigned that post to seek the congressional nomination and rejoined the governor's staff after the primary with the title of special assistant.

Oversees Development
The commission was set up earlier this year to oversee development of the Hudson River Valley.

11 Nabbed Including Students

Confiscate Drugs, Cover 2 Counties

A systematically planned and simultaneously executed narcotics drive in southern Ulster County, Saturday night resulted in the arrests of 11 young men, including two students at State University College, New Paltz, on charges of possession or sale of narcotic drugs.

The mass arrests were part of the United Narcotics Control by Law Enforcement (UNCLE) movement launched several months ago by District Attorney Joseph P. Torracca in a campaign to stamp out, or reduce, narcotic drugs operations in this county.

Many in On Arrest
Torracca was assisted in the investigations and arrests by state and village police, the State Narcotics Board investigators, Sheriff William B. Martin and two undercover detectives from New York City Police Department.

The arrests followed a grand jury probe conducted by Torracca and the report of the grand jurors who handed up sealed indictments last week, it was reported.

During Saturday night's activities by authorities, a large quantity of narcotic drugs, associated paraphernalia, hashish, DMT, LSD, assorted water pipes and hypodermic needles and other equipment were confiscated.

Undercover Men Vital
The arrests climaxed a two-month investigation planned and conducted by Torracca. Evidence that resulted in the arrests was gathered mostly by two narcotics undercover detectives from New York City, who were assigned here at the request of the district attorney by Deputy Inspector Ira S. Bluth of the New York Police Narcotics Division.

The two undercover officers from New York City had conducted an on-campus investigation at the New Paltz college representing themselves as "beatnik intellectual types," according to Torracca.

The arrests were made on the college campus, on streets of New Paltz, in bars and restaurants, and at Ellenville, Beacon and Highland.

Accused Identified
Authorities identified the accused as:

Peter Anthony Marinos, 21, of Tuckers Corners Road, Highland.

Michael John Amato, 27, Chodkee Lake Road, Highland.

Frank Thomas Patti, 19, of 493 Lake Street, Brooklyn.

They were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, Town of Ulster, Marinos and Patti waived preliminary hearing and their cases were referred to the grand jury. Amato requested a hearing which is scheduled for Wednesday at 3 p. m.

U.S. to Return Wounded Hanoi Troops, No Trade

MADRID (AP) — U.S. presidential envoy W. Averell Harriman said Sunday night that the United States plans to send some sick or wounded North Vietnamese prisoners of war home.

Harriman indicated that the United States would like to have a prisoner exchange, but that the U.S. plan was not conditional on any reciprocal action from Hanoi.

No Number Given
He did not say when the repatriation would be done nor the number involved. The release, he said, would be undertaken through the International Red Cross and not by direct approach to North Vietnam.

Harriman, who arrived Sunday from Algeria, told newsmen of the plan in conversation during a reception at the U.S. Embassy. He is on a tour of various nations to explain the U.S. position on Vietnam and the decisions of the recent Manila conference.

The only North Vietnamese known to be held by the United States are 19 seamen pulled from the Gulf of Tonkin when their torpedo boats were sunk.

The Saigon government has custody of most North Vietnamese captured in fighting, including (Continued on Page 39, Col. 1)

Mohawk Increases Flights; No Planes to Poughkeepsie

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Mohawk Airlines today added more flights to its schedule, which had been curtailed by a strike of the regional carrier's 500 mechanics.

Meanwhile, an official of the National Mediation Board indicated the federal officials would be in touch with representatives of the airline and the mechanics in further efforts to settle the strike.

The walkout began at midnight last Thursday after members of Local 75, International Association for Machinists and Aerospace Workers, failed to reach agreement with the company over pension — plan payments.

A spokesman for Mohawk said Sunday the line would restore partial service to four of seven cities to which all flights previously had been cancelled.

About half the usual flights would resume Monday to Rutland, Vt., Worcester, Mass., Keene, N.H., and Erie, Pa.

The three cities that still will be without Mohawk service are Jamestown, Poughkeepsie and Olean. A spokesman said it (Continued on Page 40, Col. 2)

SAVE BETH GROUP — Some of the 100 Save Beth Committee on hand at the County Office Building Friday night file up to board of supervisors meeting. An overflow audience was on hand for reappointment of Joseph Fitzsimmons as County Welfare Commissioner by a 21 to 12 vote. Although picket lines had been anticipated, spectators were orderly. The committee is a key figure in the Liumi adoption case which has received international recognition through press, radio and television media. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Liumi of Tillson have been denied adoption of 4½ year old Beth St. John, a foster child they raised from birth. Their ages and ethnic backgrounds were cited as two reasons by the welfare department. Mrs. Grace M. McEvoy, a Tillson neighbor, heads the Save Beth Committee with offices on Central Broadway. # Americans Wage Different War In Mekong Delta

By PETER ARNETT
BEN LUC, Vietnam (AP) — Three sniper bullets whined through the rice that was ripening in the sun. Men of the U.S. infantry squad fell to their knees, the platoon commander cursing quietly.

The snipers obviously were holed up in a village hidden in coconut groves and banana trees 800 yards across the shimmering paddy fields. Anywhere else in Vietnam the Americans could call in artillery, and maybe an air strike, to chase the snipers away.

No Artillery
But this was the Mekong River delta, a new kind of war for the U.S. troops in Vietnam. They had to take the village the hard way.

Battalion, 9th Infantry, 25th Division, were operating out of Ben Luc, a district town 20 miles south of Saigon on the northern edge of the Mekong delta.

The U.S. troops at Ben Luc are evaluating conditions in the delta before large numbers of American forces move in.

The village and the snipers ahead were a typical obstacle for the U.S. troops.

They had reached the area after a morning that began in pouring rain at their base camp in Ben Luc. They moved down to the Vao Oriental River that bisects the north delta, then climbed into a Vietnamese navy craft that took them five miles upstream.

Chest-Deep Mud
From there, the unit plunged into the coconut groves and the paddy fields, wading waist deep through canals, searching for Viet Cong supplies cached in sampans hidden in reeds and poking at stacks of rice straw.

The mud caked on their trousers and their forearms. At times, the heavy-weapon men got bogged down in swamps and had to be pulled out by their buddies.

Moving through the paddy fields was slow work. The hard dikes were good footpaths, but too dangerous. Snipers 1,000 yards across the flat rice fields could pick them off. The three whirring bullets indicated that the snipers were trying.

Elsewhere in Vietnam, standard operating procedure is to pour in artillery and air strikes on snipers. In the delta, however, the test units have been ordered not to do this. Too many innocent people live in the villages. To bring heavy fire down upon them might kill scores.

So the 25th Division troops deployed along the paddy field edges, firing bursts from their M16 automatic rifles as they moved forward.

Search Village
A few more staccato sniper shots rang out. The forward American elements ran into the village, dodging around the large, earthenware water pots running through the thatched-roof houses looking for the snipers, lifting off well lids.

No men could be found in the village of 50 or so houses. But there were plenty of women and children. None had been hurt in the small-arms assault.

One mother with a baby in her arms and three young daughters at her feet looked impassively at an American soldier guarding her. Other soldiers searched her humble home.

A few houses along, a girl giggled at the soldiers.

The U.S. soldiers shook their heads in quiet amazement at the scene — shot at one minute, then laughed at. What kind of war was this?

Some of the soldiers dunked their heads in the water pots to wash off the mud.

Happy to Leave
Then they began the trek home across the rice fields to the river. They had no casualties, but they were still happy to leave.

According to the South Vietnamese premier, Nguyen Cao Ky, American troops will deploy into the delta in force later in

AP to Change Vietnam Usage To One Word

A survey by The Associated Press shows that "Vietnam," as one word, is the most common usage for the name of the South-east Asian country, and this form is being adopted effective today in all AP dispatches.

There are three ways to spell the country's name, and none is really wrong.

The Saigon government on its postage stamps uses a hyphenated form: Viet-Nam. This is also used at the United Nations.

The two-word form, Viet Nam, is used on many maps including those of the National Geographic Society.

However, Vietnam as one word is most commonly used in reference books. In its favor, also, is the derivative word "Vietnamese," used as both adjective and noun and rarely appearing as two words although it is sometimes hyphenated.

The AP decided to follow the one-word form as being the shortest as well as the most common style.

H. O. Beckman Dies, Was YMCA Director

ELIZABETHTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Funeral services were scheduled today for Herman C. Beckman, a pioneer in youth-camp programs and director of the YMCA's Camp Dudley at Westport for more than 40 years, who died Friday. He was 84.

Beckman died in Community Hospital after a brief illness.

A native of New York City, Beckman was director of Camp Dudley, near Lake Champlain, from 1908 until 1948 when he retired and was appointed director emeritus.

He had attended the camp in 1897, two years after it was founded. He became a leader there in 1903.

He was graduated from Yale in 1906.

Beckman is survived by a sister, Mrs. Emma Moxley, of Westport, and three nieces.

December, and gradually build up their strength next year.

The prospect for them is mud, frustration, and surprises, like those encountered by the guinea pigs from the 25th Division.

Troy Cop Goes Shopping in N.Y., Comes Home Hero

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—Troy Patrolman John H. Gray went Christmas shopping in New York City and brought home the mantle of a hero.

Gray, 30, in his first year as a policeman, aided New York City police in bringing down a gunman who apparent went berserk and shot a Binghamton man and a New York City resident to death in a mid-Manhattan park Saturday.

Gray said that when he and his girl friend, Colleen Smith, also of Troy, came up from a subway, they heard someone shout, "there's a maniac in the park."

Miss Smith ducked back into the subway entrance and Gray drew his revolver and ran into the street, he said.

He said he saw the gunman, Gustave D. Williams of South Ozone Park, and fired five shots from his revolver just as Williams fired at a New York City police officer.

"They tell me he fired the rifle at me just before I hit him," Gray told a reporter. "There's no way of telling."

"I've never been involved in any of this stuff in Troy. Never any gunplay. I'm not going to New York again, though. That cured me," he said.

Williams was reported in critical condition Sunday night in a hospital.

The two men killed were identified as Charles L. Swan of Binghamton and Doran J. Norton of Manhattan.

New Hercules Plant

Plans for the construction of an 80,000,000-gallon methanol plant were announced today by the Synthetics Department of Hercules Incorporated. It is expected that the multimillion-dollar plant will be in operation the latter part of 1968 and will employ about 100 people. Location of the plant is still undecided. Hercules plant here is at Port Ewen. Hercules now produces methanol in plants at Louisiana, Missouri, and Hercules, California, and is a substantial producer of formaldehyde, pentaerythritol, DMT (dimethyl terephthalate), and other products which consume methanol. A major part of the production of the new plant will be made available for sale to industry.

JURY DUTY A SACRED FUNCTION

Jury service is one of the most sacred functions which appertain to American citizenship. Service to your country as a juror in time of peace is as essential to its preservation as service to it as a soldier in time of war.

Jury service is not something to be avoided and it would be very discouraging if law-abiding citizens had no regard for the citizens' acknowledged responsibility to serve on juries.

It might be well for our schools to implant in the minds of young Americans how much rests upon the orderly functioning of our courts. What would happen if they were thrust aside and military court martials substituted as in many countries?

The jury system in effect in this country comes to us from English law and is centuries old. It is the best and safest practical manner for determination of facts as the basis of judgment of courts. It is the best guarantee of justice.

The Sixth Amendment to the Constitution gives the accused in all criminal prosecutions the right to a "speedy and public trial by an impartial jury." With such a Constitutional guarantee on behalf of those who come into court as defendants, there should be a high degree of respect for those who perform jury service.

In criminal trials, where the liberty and, in some cases, the life of a defendant is at stake, the expression of reasonable doubt is of extreme importance. There can be no honest verdict of guilty until all jurors are satisfied from the evidence presented beyond a reasonable doubt. The jury impaneled by the court has the sole responsibility of deciding if the evidence presented raises a doubt as to the guilt of the accused.

This rates the jury as important as the judge or even higher.

Jury duty is one of the inalienable rights that we enjoy in this land. No one should shirk this responsibility.

ELECTRICS IN THE WIND

Not long ago a California highway official suggested, in all seriousness, that there might be a ban on gasoline-powered autos not many years hence to combat air pollution. It is not as wild a dream as one might suppose.

As it happens, the proposal came at a time of rising indications that an electric substitute for the gasoline engine may be on the market fairly soon. While ago the Ford Motor Company hinted at such a development within 10 years. This idea has now been bolstered by Dr. Manfred Altman of the University of Pennsylvania. He has said that a family of electric automobiles, from tiny runabouts to over-the-road vehicles, could be made available within a decade.

We may be witnessing another of those times in history when new technology is developed just in time to meet a crying need. Electrics may yet take over from the gas buggy whose fumes have saddled us with a growing air pollution problem.

HIGHWAY SIGNS

Our fine new superhighways are so clearly and simply marked it's almost impossible to get lost on them.

But not on our other roads. For in too many places you have to wonder if the people who put up the signs aren't on a different wave length from the people who read the signs.

Here's a sign that says Route 64 turns to the left. A nice, neat arrow points invitingly down the street to the left. So you turn left.

You shouldn't have done it. For what the sign really means is that Route 64 turns to the left a block beyond where the sign says it turns to the left.

Or you are following Route 36 through a strange city. On streets where you couldn't possibly turn off, there are Route 36 signs galore. But when you get to the business district, in heavy traffic and a maze of intersections, the 36 signs disappear—completely.

Or at least that's what you think. I ask

'These Days'

A CAN OF WORMS AT THE UN

The future of the western world gets more and more doubtful every day because statesmen, so-called, think they have a commitment to follow "logical next steps."
One important "logical" issue, as this column is being written, is coming to a head at the UN, with the British Foreign Secretary, George Brown, in New York to present his country's case for sanctions against the breakaway African colony of Rhodesia. It doesn't matter much whether the sanctions are tough or timorous, for disaster lurks ahead from one quarter or another no matter what course is followed. If Britain, with the United States as its pledged supporter, is forced to crack down on South Africa to prevent embargoed goods from going through to Rhodesia, it means an economic struggle to the death between the United Kingdom and its fourth largest customer. The British pound, already in plenty of trouble, won't be able to take it, and the U.S. dollar, as the one remaining world "reserve currency," will be faced with something that could result in a 1929 situation. On the other hand, if economic sanctions against Rhodesia are merely lip-service stuff, the tropical African bloc at the UN will not sit quietly.

The battle is being billed in the UN as one between morality and the dollar sign. Morality says that one man should have one vote in Rhodesia where the white minority currently rules over a majority of blacks. The tropical Africans, taking high moral ground, are quite oblivious to what might happen to the world outside of Africa if the British pound and the U.S. dollar both falter. And they don't really comprehend what might happen inside Africa. Always, in the past, the tropical Africans have been able to count on the pound and the dollar. The western money tree has never yet failed to be good for one more shaking, whether the need has been for medicare, or foundation money to support wild animal preserves, or investment funds to open up copper mines. Knowing nothing of finance, the new tropical African finance ministers assume that men from the bush will find some way of making a living even if every South African port is closed by British and U.S. warships.

Yet this isn't the way things would work out. Blacks have moved into both Rhodesia and South Africa, despite political discrimination and apartheid, for purely economic reasons. If abstract morality meant anything to these blacks, they would refuse to work for masters who are immorally committed against the "one man, one vote" idea. But when it comes to advocating a work embargo against white business, the tropical Africans are mum.

Nothing is simple in this world, and the question whether it can really be moral to provoke a depression that will multiply misery and starvation among black people who need jobs to support themselves and their families is one of those ethical conundrums that must forever baffle the schoolmen. So it is not surprising that the tropical African rulers don't follow through with their own thinking.

The question of "democracy in Africa is itself up in the air. The tropical Africans at the UN want "one man, one vote for Rhodesia. Yet many of the new African states are single-party affairs in which the slogan might be "one man, one vote, one party." Many of the Africans have confused democracy with tribe and race; they aren't really against dictatorial rule provided the dictators are black.

The British request for UN sanctions against Rhodesia opens up still another gray world in which talk about morality is rooted in the worst of confusion. If it is moral to embargo the white Rhodesians because they want to slow down the rush to "one man, one vote," then, by the same token, it must be immoral for Canada, say, to pledge its future wheat crop to Red China's Mao Tse-tung. After all, Mao, who doesn't believe in "one man, one vote," presided over the collective death sentence of 20 million anti-Red Chinese in the revolution of the late Nineteen Forties, which was worse from a moral standpoint than anything the South Africans or Rhodesians have ever done.

The situation at the UN is a can of worms anyway you take it. Nobody there comes to things with clear hands. And there is no "moral" way of settling the issue. It will be resolved along the lines of power and prestige.

THE WELL CHILD

Your Child's Appetite For Christmas Is Limited

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D., Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Whether you are prepared for it or not, Christmas is once again approaching. If your baby is less than two years old you should avoid making a big thing of Christmas. What he wants for Christmas is what he is already used to—regular feedings, a change of diapers, a restful nap, a mother's smile and his familiar toys. What he doesn't want is a crowd of noisy strangers oh-ing and ah-ing at him and inundating him under a barrelful of new toys.

If he is under three it may be better not to attempt to pay a visit to Santa Claus. St. Nick is much jollier in the picture books at that age than in an awesome confrontation. Your child will have plenty of chances to meet Santa Claus later. It is better to have fun by helping him compose a letter to Santa Claus at home.

If your child is three to five and you want to take him to town to see the Christmas decorations and to meet Santa in person, try to go at a time when the crowds are lightest and avoid having him get overtired. You can come back another time without him to finish your shopping.

Remember that your child's powers of concentration are limited. He will get much more enjoyment on Christmas Day from opening a few presents than from opening dozens and he will appreciate each one more if it doesn't have to compete with a roomful.

When your child is six you should begin to shift the emphasis gently from "What do you want for Christmas?" to "What do you want to give for Christmas?" This is an important part of growing up.

Q—What would cause a newborn child to have jaundice? Is there any chance of it coming back in later years?

A—If the jaundice appears on the second or third day of life (jaundice of the newborn) this is a normal finding in about 60 per cent of all babies. It is caused by incomplete development of liver function and usually disappears by the time the child is 2 weeks old.

If the jaundice is present at birth, RH incompatibility of the parents or some other serious condition may be present. This would require prompt treatment. If ordinary jaundice of the newborn doesn't clear up in two weeks a doctor should see the child. If it does clear up, the likelihood of getting jaundice later in life is no greater and no less than in a child who did not have jaundice.

IN THE THAILAND - CAMBODIA BORDER REGION (NEA)—The elderly man was a close relative of the controversial Prince Norodom Sihanouk, ruler of Cambodia.

He knows the Cambodian chief well. In view of the problems that this mercurial prince creates for the United States in South Viet Nam and Southeast Asia generally, we talked at length about Sihanouk's background.

"The first thing you must understand about Sihanouk is that he's a prince," said the old man. "Once you know that, you have the key to his character. He's been brought up to believe he is right and his judgment is supreme. No one dares contradict him. Even if he did, Sihanouk would not listen to the opposition."

"He only hears what he wants to hear. He believes what he wants to believe."

The next thing to remember about him is that he was put on his throne by the French. The French passed over the next in succession and made Sihanouk ruler of Cambodia. They did this because he was young and they believed they could control him.

"Because of this—because they made him ruler—Sihanouk took on a great admiration for the French. To him, De Gaulle is a great hero. In Cambodia, what De Gaulle wants, he gets. This is profitable for the French. It is also profitable—in the short run financially—for Sihanouk."

"The French are friendly with Peking and the Red Chinese. The Red Chinese play up to Sihanouk. He's impressed by the French stand and he likes the Chinese attention."

"Sihanouk knows that if the Communists take over he is finished. He is a prince. He knows the Communists don't go for princes.

"But being a prince, he believes he is clever enough to play the Communists against Thailand and South Viet Nam. He also knows that his army is not strong enough to stand up against the North Vietnamese and that they have enough forces in Cambodia to control whatever they want anyway."

"Besides, Sihanouk deals with the French, Red China, the Soviet Union, the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam are profitable for him—in trade, smuggling and military and economic help."

"The third thing to remember about Sihanouk is that despite his own certainty as to his own infallibility, he has a great national inferiority complex."

"He must continually show his neighbors—the Thai and the South Vietnamese—that Cambodia is a country to be reckoned with. Thus he is forever making strong, challenging statements to these two neighbors."

"This accounts for Sihanouk's obsession with his boundaries—his sensitivity about any border violations, real or alleged, and for his continual push for boundary guarantees."

"Remember, Cambodia was once a territory governed by Thailand, Thailand and Vietnam historically have overshadowed Cambodia. Sihanouk feels he must show these countries that Sihanouk and Cambodia are equal to them."

"But go back to my first point—that he is a prince... to whom people do not dare say things, except those things he wants to hear. Since he lives in this unreal world, how can one tell what he is going to do?"

Jim Bishop: Reporter

I drew The Talker. It was a neutral afternoon; an empty sky, a dozing breeze. Clay Watts, the starter, asked if I wanted to play golf with another loner, and I said sure. So The Talker came over and eased himself into the cart and flapped his tongue, like a loose sole on a shoe.

He didn't talk fast. Or nervously. Just incessantly. He was a big handsome man, with blue eyes and hair like an Italian mourning veil. He played the 353-yard first as though it were a tuna. He drew a seven and told me to give him five. I did.

We had never met before, he said on the second, but he knew me because back home his wife is a fan of mine. He hauled off and belted a banana ball beyond the ladies' tee. His game was off, he said, because he had "things" on his mind. I know better than to ask what things.

Come to think of it, I seldom said anything but yes, and twice I had tried to choke that down to a nod. The good thing about The Talker's monologue is that he chirruped right through my shots, but stopped for his. This was thoughtful.

Through the 421-yard fourth and the 161-yard fifth, I got a dissertation on his wife. I did. I thought he was adorable. "Last year," he said, "she spent seven big ones for clothes. But what the hell, a man has to dress 'em right, hey Mr. Bishop? My wife needs four trunks for an overnight hike."

On the sixth, a dogleg left, he suddenly felt that we had known each other for years and told me about his girl friend. A show girl, of course. "Lovely girl," he said casually. "Strictly for kicks. Costs me a bundle, but a smart operator trades 'em in each year."

He got the bottom part of a five iron on the top part of the ball and it hopped into a trap. Here he did something unusual: didn't come off, but his wrists did. He got on in seven and told me to mark him for one more stroke than I got.

"Got things on my mind," he said, taking a deep breath and exhaling as though it were illegal. "I bought a small electronics company near Brocton for six hundred and eighty thousand, and now my lawyers tell me that my parent company can't buy components from it."

A rich man, I notice, always has a lawyer in the plural.

In fact, he sometimes announced that "we" ought to hit a seven iron from 160 yards out, but settled for a four. He asked me what kind of money a writer makes. I figured it would serve him right if I told him, but when

Can Red Missile Build-Up Mean Another Pearl Harbor?

By David Laurence

WASHINGTON — Yes, there could be another Pearl Harbor. But it would be much worse next time. For it is estimated that 130 million Americans would be killed by a surprise nuclear attack. This is why there is so much discussion now in military circles about what is called the "Nike-X" system of anti-missile missiles. This, with certain other defensive measures, would be expected to cut the deaths to something like 60 million, and thereby save 70 million lives.

But there are as yet no anti-missile defenses in the United States, and reliance is being placed entirely on the plan to use an avalanche of missiles to retaliate with such intensity that 100 million people in the enemy country could be killed and the economy destroyed.

The argument continues, however as to whether the deterrent is adequate. The U.S. joint chiefs of staff are on record on record unanimously in favor of "Nike-X." Without mentioning this phase of the problem, Secretary of Defense McNamara—after a long discussion with President Johnson—this week issued to the press a memorandum designed to allay any public apprehension as to the effectiveness of America's missile strength.

May Be Equal by '70

It is evident the administration felt it necessary to take public note of reports that the Soviets are rapidly increasing their missile strength. These reports began to filter out about three weeks ago from Western Europe and the Pentagon. They indicated that America's lead of 4 to 1 in intercontinental ballistic missiles was rapidly diminishing, and that perhaps by 1970 the Soviet Union would catch up with the United States. Also, the Russians were reported already to be deploying an anti-missile system of their own around Moscow, Leningrad and other cities.

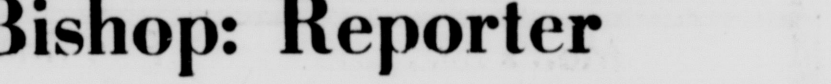

In his statement this week, Secretary McNamara conceded that U. S. intelligence agencies had underestimated the number of intercontinental ballistic missiles that the Soviets would have in place by the middle of 1968 and in subsequent years. But he insisted that this country could still deal with a crushing counter-blow to any attacking enemy. The United States has 1,600 ICBM's, land-based and sea-based, while the Soviet Union is supposed to have only 400. The latter, however, are expected to start in 1967 putting missiles in place at the rate of 300 to 400 a year.

The big question is whether the Russians will catch up with us. The possibility of a sneak attack is conceded though the probability is very much discounted. For even if one country could inflict incredible damage on the other, the chances of an equally damaging retaliation are still considered to be a powerful deterrent.

I wanted to say: "Mister, this is an impossible game. It's the only one where you must stand the way you don't want to, hold the weapon awkwardly, swing like a scullery maid with a broom, and not look up to see what happened." But he was busy borrowing three new balls from me, so I couldn't get my speech off the roof of my mouth.

From time to time I am asked about the value of books, or where they can be sold. I do not have this information. There are markets for books, and I have had magazines which gave the name and addresses of dealers and what they were looking for, so perhaps the local library has such information.

Mr. Keyser of Kingston sends me many interesting items, such as old post cards. I have one of a post card of 1918 showing life at Camp Dix, N. J. It shows inside of a YMCA hut and some soldiers buying postcards to send home, one mailing it. Several post cards are of Steeplechase, Funny Place, Asbury Park, N. J.

A little FASTEETH sprinkled on your dentures does all this: (1) Helps hold false teeth more firmly in place; (2) Holds them more comfortably; (3) Lets you bite up to 35% harder without discomfort. FASTEETH Powder is alkaline (non-acid). Won't sour. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

The vintage of the automobiles seems to be around 1918 also. There is another post card of the Astor House, Tannersville, Catskill Mountains, N. Y. Another card shows "A section of O'Neill's summer furniture display," in a palm decorated large display area. It was the time of comfortable straw furniture and rockers. One can see that to display furniture one needs a lot of space so that they can be placed in groups, and plenty of space left for walking around it.

Mr. Keyser included a Dec. 29, 1922 Kingston Lodge No. 10, F. & A. M. item. On the front of which is a fine illustration of the "First meeting house of State Senate, Kingston's first Masonic Meeting Place," the Senate House, Kingston, N. Y. It shows the Senate House when it had a shingle roof, not the new one of metal they have today. My post cards are of the old shingle roof. They mention that Kingston Lodge, No. 10 F. & A. M. was organized Dec. 8, 1790. In this 1922 little item they list the officers for 1923. Arthur A. Davis was Worshipful Master, Robert F. Avery was Senior Warden, Henry D. Darrow Junior Warden.

I just received an item from D. F. Balber of White Plains. It is from The Reporter Dispatch, White Plains, Monday, Dec. 5, 1966, full page on which item is typed "I think this will interest you." It shows the three lighthouses, Esopus Meadows, Tarrytown, Light and Hudson Lighthouse. The article is written by Milton Hoffman and titled "Historic Hudson Lighthouses — Are They Doomed?" In the article the Saugerties and Kingston lights are mentioned. I hope to take all these articles on lighthouses and keep them together and hope they will save and keep all these most interesting buildings.

About the Tarrytown light they write, that it has a spiral interior staircase, and is about three or four stories high and gives what Charles Pond, Westchester commissioner of parks, recreation and conservation says a "fantastic" view of New York City and the Hudson Highlands. Filling operations by General Motors when it expanded its plant at Tarrytown-North Tarrytown line narrowed the gap between the lighthouse and the shore.

They mention that "in cooperation with Roger Mabie, town supervisor of Esopus, and Peter Williams, town supervisor of Saugerties, HRVC aides have met twice with officials to preserve these buildings. Charles T. Cole, Kingston superintendent of public works, is mentioned as fighting to save the Kingston light for the coming enlarging of the park at the Kingston Point area. Anyway, that local officials have taken a stand to save these remarkable buildings, perhaps someday, boats will be scheduled to make trips to each one on the Hudson, and those who wish can visit them, and take pictures. If these buildings were at the recent World's Fair, what a time the shutter-bugs would have had. I am glad that, now or never, our Americana landmarks are being fought for, and appreciate these items sent to this column for further inspiration to local officials.

Federal Funds for Area Farmers to Be Held Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A court has ordered the Secretary of Agriculture to place in escrow the differential payments to dairy farmers who operate within a 110-mile limit of New York City.

That order came Friday from the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which said the directive would remain in effect pending the outcome of current litigation.

On Nov. 18, the court ruled that such payments were illegal, reversing a lower-court decision. The court's action Friday means that its November ruling will not take effect for at least 90 days, the maximum time permitted the government to ask the U.S. Supreme Court for a review.

If the government does seek such a review, and the nation's highest court agrees to it, the stay of the Nov. 18 order would be in existence until a decision is reached by the Supreme Court.

The case dates back to March 1, 1965, when dairy farmers outside the 110-mile area of New York City sought an injunction to cancel a section of the New York-New Jersey milk marketing order known as the nearby-differential payment.

The differential payment resulted from an agriculture department order that said dairy farmers within the 110-mile limit should be paid an extra amount because of what the government termed the farmers' historic share of the market.

Charles P. Ryan, attorney for the farmers bringing the case, said the differential payments to be held in escrow might total as much as $12 million if the case finally goes to the Supreme Court.

Seaway Still Open

MONTREAL (AP)—The eastern section of the St. Lawrence Seaway will continue to operate on a day-to-day basis until Dec. 15, says an official of the waterway.

Rene L'Heureux, director of the Seaway's eastern region, made that announcement Friday, a few hours after the last ocean vessel cleared the system.

The New York City slipped out of the Seaway at 3 a.m. (EST) Friday.

Originally, the eastern section was scheduled to close Dec. 3.

Authorities said many of the damaged chutes probably would have ripped.

Hearings Slated In January by Rosendale Board

Two public hearings scheduled for tonight by the Rosendale Town Board have been postponed until Jan. 11.

The hearings will be held at 6 and 7 p. m. on that date and will concern building and solicitation permits in the town.

The preliminary budget of $90,767.66 was approved at a recent board meeting. Last year's budget figure without county charges was $78,514.19. Although this year's budget is higher, Supervisor Gerard DeFelice noted that the tax rate probably will be down from 1966 due to increase in estimated revenues. The complete tax will be announced when county charges are made known.

Among the new items in the budget this year is an appropriation of $2,000 for redistricting and $1,700 for a new voting machine. Districts 1 and 3 will be split making five districts in the town.

Appropriations to the library were increased by $500. Town dump budget was upped $300 to include funds for removal of junk cars and $25 increase in salary of dump custodian.

Other salaries of town officials were increased also.

Faces Burglary Charge On Plattekill Break-in

A 33-year-old Orange County man was arrested Sunday by State Police and charged with burglary, third degree in connection with an alleged entry at the Villa Elba, Old Route 32, Plattekill.

Trooper Edward Pulver, who investigated with BCI Investigator Robert F. Greaves and Trooper Jack Ostmark, said Donald Albert Dunn, of 138 Broadway, Newburgh, is slated to appear for hearing Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. before Justice of the Peace Lewis DiStasi, Town of Lloyd, on the burglary charge.

Pulver reported that a complaint was made by the owners of the establishment at Plattekill, who said they caught Dunn in the building. Judge DiStasi fixed bail at $1,000.

Second Market Bombing

LA GUARIA, Venezuela (AP)—For the second time in less than a month terrorists have bombed a store in a supermarket chain in which New York State Gov. Rockefeller has a financial interest.

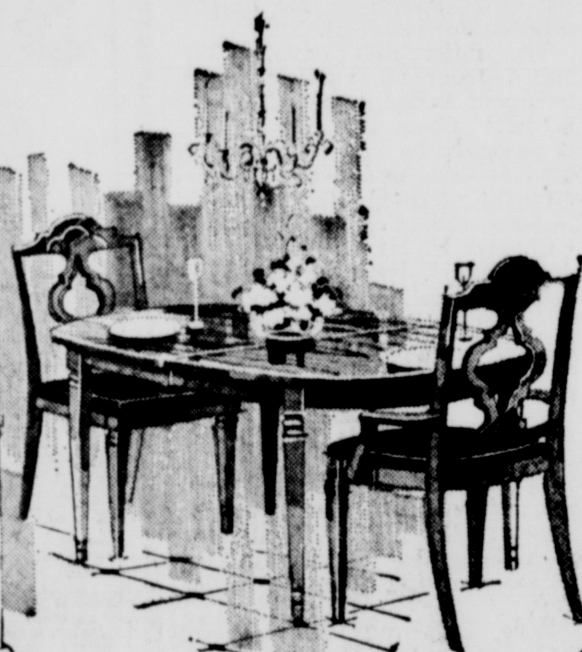

The latest bombing occurred Sunday in a newly opened market here. No one was injured and there was no immediate damage estimate. The bomb started a fire. The terrorists, which government sources have identified as communists, set off a bomb inside another store in the chain in Caracas, Nov. 25.

Ex-PFC Busy Man*Schultze Putting Final Touch on New Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the busiest men in Washington these days is a former Army private first class now presiding over one of government's most exacting jobs — preparing the nation's budget.

Marks Birthday Today

Charles L. Schultze, a slightly graying economist who celebrates his 42nd birthday today, is officially known as director of the Bureau of the Budget.

A native of Alexandria, Va., Schultze takes in stride decisions which could make even the most hard-headed official shudder.

"A small decision here is measured in millions," he said in an interview, "but you sometimes find yourself arguing and worrying about the smallest amounts, even a few thousand dollars."

Schultze, backed by a staff of 500 housed mainly in the Executive Office Building next door to the White House, is now putting the finishing touches on the budget which is expected to approach a record $140 billion in spending for the fiscal year which begins next July 1. This does not include the trust accounts such as Social Security and highway funds.

Schultze views his role as that of a coordinator and screen or funnel between the President and the rest of government.

"We have to settle things which don't need the President's attention and we must make sure the items which do need his attention get to him in proper form," Schultze said.

To do this, the budget director normally is up at 7:30 each morning and after a quick shower and breakfast, spends about 45 minutes working at home before arriving at the office about 9 a.m.

Eats at Desk

Sometimes, he said, the President might telephone before he leaves home. "Usually when I'm in the shower."

Schultze frequently eats lunch at his desk and at this time of year — the peak period in his job which pays $30,000 annually

Train Hits Scouts; Kills Leader, Boy

BRIGHTON, Mich. (AP) — "Grab the boy and jump! Grab the boy and jump!"

Engineer Lawrence Green shouted to the fleeing figures as his train bore down on them on a snowy trestle.

Despite braking power fully applied, the Chesapeake & Ohio freight ground on down the tracks and brought tragedy to a Boy Scout hike Saturday.

Howard T. Lovell, 50, leader of Detroit Troop 586, and John Gresham, 11, a member of the troop, were killed. Both were from Detroit.

Lovell died apparently trying to shoo young Gresham to safety when the train, going 55 miles an hour, caught the Scouts by surprise on the Huron River trestle in Island Lake State Park.

Another Scout, 14-year-old Kevin Connors, 14, of Detroit, broke a leg when he jumped 30 feet to the ground.

State police said Connors is deaf and did not hear the train's whistle. He jumped because he saw the others scrambling for safety, officers said.

Thirty-four Scouts escaped harm, some of them by leaping from the trestle as Connors did.

Engineer Green, 63, of Inkster said the train had rounded a curve about 200 yards from the trestle when he saw the boys.

The Scouts chose the trestle route, which has "no trespassing" signs on each end, as a short cut from their campsite to an area a mile away where they planned a cookout, police said.

Town Needs Doctor; Puts Up Billboard

SHOREHAM, Vt. (AP) — The communities of Shoreham and Orwell in western Vermont have been without a doctor since Dr. Lloyd Davis of Shoreham died in August.

The nearest doctors are now 10 miles away so a search has been going on for a new resident physician for both towns, which have a combined population of 1,600.

Friday, residents erected a billboard on Route 22-A which states their common problem.

"We need a doctor."

The sign carries the home telephone of Mrs. Tom Arthur of Orwell, chairman of the South Champlain Valley Medical Committee.

So far, no calls have been received.

High Cost of Speed

MARION, N.C. (AP) — A youth who lost his driver's license last week for going 90 miles an hour lost his life driving 130 miles an hour Saturday night, the state highway patrol said.

He was identified as Jerry Dean Holtsclaw, 20, of Marion.

Two other Marion youths also were killed when Holtsclaw lost control of his father's car on U.S. 221 while being chased by two state highway patrolmen.

Explore, Dig and Build

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — During a million dollar renovation at Methodist Hospital, this sign was displayed in front of the building. "Hospital Undergoes Surgery."

Faces Murder Charge

ROME, N.Y. (AP) — An extradition hearing for Mrs. Anna Mae Quackenbush, who has been charged with murder in Iowa, will be delayed about two weeks, New York State authorities said today.

The 45-year-old woman is not "physically capable now to stand a legal hearing," a physician at the Oneida County Hospital here explained.

The nature of her illness was not disclosed.

Mrs. Quackenbush has refused to waive extradition on a warrant from Iowa charging her with murder in 1958 of a grocery store owner.

The President's budget will be presented to Congress about Jan. 20.

Says Book Angers Kennedy Family

CHICAGO (AP) — A book commissioned by the family of John F. Kennedy to describe the aftermath of his assassination has aroused their anger, the Chicago Daily News says.

The family "is engaged in a strange and bitter struggle to delete" Mrs. Kennedy's recollections from "The Death of a President" written by William Manchester, according to Peter Lisagor, Daily News Washington bureau chief.

Lisagor quoted one person who had read the manuscript as saying, "Jackie now regrets having poured out her soul to Manchester as if he were a psychiatrist." Manchester was selected by the Kennedys to write the book.

The Daily News story said: "The manuscript is understood to contain hitherto unpublished material involving President Johnson and the Kennedys. These details are likely to increase existing tension between Mr. Johnson and the Kennedy clan."

The book is to be published by Harper & Row and serialized in four installments in Look magazine starting Jan. 10.

Steinbeck Will Tour in Vietnam

By JOHN NANCE

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Author John Steinbeck has come to war-torn Vietnam to "go up the rivers, into the mountains. To listen to it, to see it for myself."

The bearded 64-year-old Nobel Prize-winner said in an interview today he will learn to fire the M16 automatic rifle and the M79 grenade launcher.

"How can I write about these things if I don't know them?" he asked.

Steinbeck and his wife arrived

Saturday for an "indefinite stay."

His reports will appear as a series of letters, he said, in Newsday, the Long Island, N.Y., newspaper.

Steinbeck's guide part of the time, will be his son John (Catbird) Steinbeck, 20, who has been in Vietnam since last June. He is an Army Specialist Fourth Class assigned to the armed forces radio and television network.

Steinbeck said he has been deeply concerned about the war for some time.

"I had to come and see it for myself," he said.

Capt. Pink Decorated

Captain Gordon S. Pink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Pink of Modena, has been decorated with the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Dover AFB, Del. Captain Pink was awarded the medal for meritorious service as a C-133 Cargo Master aircraft commander at Dover. He was cited for his exceptional airmanship and initiative which aided his squadron in maintaining its operationally ready status. The captain, a graduate of Wallkill Central High School, was commissioned in 1954 through the aviation cadet program. He is married to the former Gertraude Gundel.

YWCA Parents Class

209 Clinton Avenue

December 9, 1966

Editor, The Freeman:

We of the YWCA were pleased to read in The Freeman the letter from Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bergeron concerning the Parents Classes held at the YWCA. These classes were started in 1961 by the YWCA Adult Education Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alfred Cuedon. The YWCA offers this course twice a year and similar programs have proven popular all over the country in other YWCA's.

The Ulster County Health Department has supplied the qualified nurses necessary for the course. Some of the former nurses are Miss Ann Hayes, Mrs. Elizabeth Egan, Mrs. Marion Ostrander, Mrs. Edward Rathjen, Mrs. Bentley Jensen and Mrs. Warren Moon. The classes have also been endorsed by the Ulster County Medical Society.

The YWCA offers baby-sitting courses for girls 12 years and older at least once a year. The class teaches responsibility—of the sitter and of the parent, in addition to what to do in case of fire or other emergency. These are just two examples of the important work done by an agency belonging to the Ulster County Community Chest.

Yours truly,
MRS. SAMUEL MCCOUBREY
President, YWCA

Social Agencies To Meet Tuesday On Food Baskets

The Ulster County Council of Social Agencies will hold their December luncheon - business meeting Tuesday at 12 noon, at the YWCA. President Louis H. Schafer is urgently requesting all organizations to have representatives present.

Plans will be discussed on clearing the food baskets that will be given to needy families this Christmas by all organizations and clubs, also any individuals who are giving baskets. The Council feels it is very important to clear all names on each list to avoid duplicates going to any one family, and others receiving none. On Wednesday a meeting will be held at the Salvation Army Hall on North Front Street, at 7:30 p. m. where the lists will be cleared.

Guest speaker for the luncheon will be Charles Jorgensen, executive director of the Ulster County Community Action Committee. His subject will be War

Willow House Is Burned to Ground

The abandoned "Tot Lane" house on Jessup Road in Willow burned to the foundation Sunday—but it was a "controlled fire" with the Woodstock Fire Department utilizing the old building at the request of the owner.

Fire pumpers from Woodstock Fire Co. Nos. 1 and 3 and the tank truck from Co. No. 3 were on hand about 9:30 a. m. Sunday when the old building was touched-off. Firemen from the four companies comprising the Woodstock Fire Department, from the Village, Zena, Wittenberg, and Lake Hill, were ready to control the fire, to use various types of fire fighting equipment, and to end the drill with the complete demolition of the old house.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Fire Co. No. 3 served coffee and sandwiches to the firemen.

Early in the afternoon, while the firemen were still at the scene of the drill, an emergency call was received for the resuscitator and oxygen to the Goeckler home at the end of Jessup Road, just a short distance from the fire drill.

The resuscitator was dispatched from Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 pumper with a crew of men.

A member of the Goeckler household had suffered a seizure and oxygen was administered until the arrival of an ambulance from Kingston.

12 Complete KHS Key Punch Course

Twelve students will complete a course in Key Punch Operation on December 14, in the adult Education Program of the Kingston City Schools (Consolidated). Several of these students are already employed in the use of their new skill while the others are expecting employment shortly.

A second course in Key Punch Operation will be organized when classes resume during the week of Jan. 9. Since the facilities for teaching this course are limited, it is urged that those who wish to enroll for the second course, do so as soon as possible to insure a place in the class. Registration may be made in person, or by calling the office of the Director of Adult Education at the Vocational Building of Kingston High School.

on Poverty. Jorgensen has returned from attending the conference concerning EOA and will have the latest data on his subject.

In the past Jorgensen was connected with the national headquarters of the YMCA for 20 years, six were spent in field work in China.

New Cancer Book Points to Hike In Death Rates

Death rates from cancer of the stomach and from cancer of the uterus decline; death rates from cancer of the lung mount . . . some fifty million Americans will eventually develop cancer, if present rates continue.

The latest round-up of information on cancer, 1967 Cancer Facts and Figures, issued by the American Cancer Society, is now being distributed by the Society's Ulster County Unit. It was announced by George Svirsky, president of the Ulster County Unit.

Up From Last Year
The new figure of 50 million Americans (1,000,000 more than the estimate for the previous year) reflects the increase of population. It means that one in four persons will get cancer.

It will strike approximately two of three families.

Deaths from cancer of the lung continue to mount with an estimated 51,800 deaths for 1967, as compared with 49,800 this year. A decline is indicated for deaths from uterine cancer, with 13,500 estimated for 1967 as compared with 13,700 this year. The Society attributes the increasing number of lives saved to the wider application of the Pap test which helps detect the cancer in its early and more curable stages. The incidence of stomach cancer continues to decline. The estimate for 1967 is 20,000 new cases.

More May Have Lived
About 193,000 Americans will be saved from cancer in 1967, the publication reports. It also notes that 97,000 cancer patients will probably die in 1967 who might have been saved by earlier and better treatment. 1967 Cancer Facts and Figures also shows that in 1967 about 890,000 Americans will be under medical care for cancer, and there will be about 580,000 new cancer cases (diagnosed for the first time) in 1967.

In 1967 an estimated 4,800 children under the age of 15 will die of cancer, half of them from leukemia. The American Cancer Society has 64 research grants for more than $2,000,000 that are directly or indirectly related to leukemia.

The publication also points out there are now 1,400,000 Americans, alive today, who have been cured of cancer.

Greene Youths Face Grand Larceny Counts

Accused of stealing an automobile from in front of the Cairo Gardens, Main Street, Cairo, early Sunday, two youths were later arrested by Leeds BCI officers on charges of grand larceny.

Trooper L. N. Uva said Donald Orr, of Purling, reported his car had been stolen at about 1:15 a. m. yesterday. Trooper A. J. Peterson found the vehicle abandoned on Silver Spur Road, Town of Cairo, at 2:50 a. m. and subsequent investigation by troopers resulted in the arrests of Leroy Fink, 22, of Medusa, and Newton Jaycox, 17, of Greenville, who face arraignment later on grand larceny charges.

Probe $3,000 City Gem Theft

Theft of jewelry valued at some $3,000 from the home of Morton Levine, 130 Roosevelt Avenue, and two other burglaries were reported to local police over the weekend.

Entrance to the house was reported gained through a rear window and the jewelry taken from a bedroom.

Also reported entered were buildings of the Jones Dairy, 95 Cornell Street, and the Walter Smith Welding Supplies, 18 Downs Street. Both were reported entered by the breaking of rear door glasses, but nothing of value was reported missing from either place.

Point Grad Loses Life in Accident

ST CATHARINE, Ont. (AP) — Army 2nd Lt. Bohdan Sahar, 22, of Buffalo, N.Y., a 1966 graduate of West Point, died Sunday in a hospital here of injuries suffered Friday night when his automobile left the highway near this Lake Ontario community.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zenon Sahar, said he was enroute to Buffalo from Detroit, Mich., where he was stationed. The elder Sahar is a professor of history and political science at Niagara University, Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Quebec, Canada, is the world's leading supplier of newsprint paper.

Questions and Answers on Federal Tax

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—Do you ever have to pay income tax on a gift you receive when it is in money?
A—Gifts are not taxable to the recipient. A large gift, may however, be taxable to the donor. A Federal gift tax return is required to be filed by the donor when a gift or gifts to any one person during the year exceed $3,000 in value.

Q—I'm a waitress and part of my income is from cash tips. Will the tip income be included on my W-2?
A—Tip income you have reported to your employer for Social Security purposes will be recorded on your W-2 statement. If you receive less than $20 in tips for any month and, therefore, did not report them to your employer, the tips will not be reflected in your W-2 statement. However, you must include these unreported tips in your income when you prepare your income tax return for the year. IRS Form 4137 must be attached to your tax return if you received tips of $20 or more in any month and any of the amount over $20 was not reported to your employer.

Asks About Computer
Q—Is it true that all individual income tax returns will be processed by your computer system in 1967?

A—Yes. All individual tax returns filed for the 1966 tax year will be handled under the IRS automatic data processing system. The information on these returns will become part of the master file being compiled at the IRS National Computer Center.

Q—My 65th birthday is in December. Can I deduct my medical expenses for 1966 without reducing them by 3 per cent of income?

A—Your age on the last day of the year is the key factor. If you are 65 or older on December 31, 1966, medical expenses you paid during the year will be subject to the rules for those 65 or over. Thus, you need not reduce your medical expenses by 3 per cent of income.

Q—Why does a corporation need the social security numbers of its stockholders?
A—This is required by law. Corporations must report dividend payments of $10 or more to IRS using the stockholder's social security number to identify the recipient.

Q—I have just started a job where I have an expense account to cover travel costs. How do I handle this for tax purposes?

A—If you are required to account to your company for your expenses and your reimbursement does not exceed these expenses, then you do not have to report this on your income tax return. If the reimbursement exceeds your expenses then the excess must be reported as income on your return. But if your allowable travel expenses exceed your reimbursement the excess is deducted from gross income. In this case, Form 2106 should be attached to your return. The form is available by writing a post card to your District Director.

Take Deduction
Q—If I give a check in 1966 for a deductible expense, such as a charitable donation, but the check is not cashed until 1967, in what tax year should I deduct it?

A—You should take the deduction for the year in which you give the check.

Q—Is there any limit on what I can deduct for gifts to my customers?

A—Deductibility of gifts as a business expense is limited to a total of $25 to any one individual during the tax year. A husband and wife are considered one individual for the $25 gift test.

Court Decision Keeps Baseball From Antitrust

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review baseball's immunity from antitrust law.

The effect of the court's action is to leave standing a ruling by the Wisconsin Supreme Court that baseball's immunity from federal antitrust law leaves Wisconsin powerless to enforce its own antitrust law against the sport.

The Wisconsin Supreme Court decision was given in litigation over the shift of the National League's Milwaukee Braves to Atlanta after the 1965 season.

Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson C. LaFollette appealed to the Supreme Court to review the Wisconsin Supreme Court decision and overturn its ruling.

LaFollette failed by the vote of one Supreme Court justice to

In Operation

John J. Barrett, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett of 134 Green Street is on maneuvers aboard the USS Essex in the mid-Atlantic and Caribbean Sea, as part of the largest composite training for the U. S. Atlantic fleet this year.

Involving 94 ships, 19 air squadrons and more than 42,000 men, the maneuver stands for "Atlantic Fleet Exercise" and will be in progress through Dec. 16. Operating with the American fleet will be three destroyers from Canada.

Probe Is Made Of Early Blaze Near Saugerties

A fire which destroyed an unoccupied Blue Mountain home early this morning is under investigation by the sheriff's department.

At 2:25 a. m. today Centerville firemen were notified by an anonymous call that there was a house on fire on the Blue Mountain - Band Camp Road. When firemen arrived at the scene the house was practically destroyed. Scotty Myers, chief of the Centerville department, summoned aid from Cedar Grove.

The sheriff's department was notified and Deputy Sheriffs Robert Jordan and Roland Natola responded. The investigation is being continued by County Investigator Thomas Mayone.

It was reported the house, which is occupied by the Fusco family as a summer home, had been under repairs for some time and that extensive alterations were contemplated. No one was in the two-story frame house. County Investigator Mayone reported the house was practically burned to the ground when firemen arrived and all that remains standing is the chimney.

Ike's Prospects

staff said a further statement would be made later on details of the operation.

Barring any unexpected complications, the five-star general apparently has weathered still another major physical crisis in a medical-surgical history that has included two heart attacks; a minor cerebral stroke; and abdominal surgery conducted 10 years ago.

"The operation has been completed and Gen. Eisenhower was taken to his room at Ward 8 of the hospital at 10:05 a. m. (EST). Further information will be forthcoming momentarily."

There was no immediate word on how long the surgery itself was to have lasted. But it had previously been reported that it began promptly at 8 a. m. as scheduled.

Expected 90-Minute Surgery

Doctors had said prior to the operation that it was expected it would take "about an hour and a half."

After giving the announcement, Sonneborn was asked, "How does he (Eisenhower) feel?"

Sonneborn said he had no information on that at the moment, but that he expected to get it momentarily.

The announcement was the first since shortly after the surgery began.

G-E Says City Not in Picture For Turbine Site

An official of the General Electric Co. in Schenectady today told The Freeman that while the company is planning to expand its gas turbine department at a new location, Kingston "is not in the picture" as a site at the present.

Whitman Ridgeway, manager of the GE Turbine Department, said a site for the new building has yet not been specified, but for the present, at least, Kingston is not under consideration.

He referred to a report telephoned to The Freeman as "an inaccurate rumor."

Serves 29 Years In Matteawan; Must Stand Trial

William Orr, 66, who was indicted in 1936 for an alleged attack on a 70-year old Crown Street woman, is being returned to Ulster County from the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, to face an indictment which charges, first degree assault, first degree rape, second degree burglary and attempted murder.

He will be arraigned on the charge before County Judge Raymond J. Mino later today.

The crime for which Orr stands indicted was committed in 1936 and he was committed to the State Hospital at Matteawan in January 1937 where for the past 29 years he has been under treatment.

District Attorney Joseph P. Torracca received notice last week that Orr was considered sufficiently recovered to be able to understand the nature of the crime and capable of defending himself. It is expected he will be assigned counsel after being arraigned under the indictment.

Orr was returned from Matteawan by the sheriff's department today.

Boil Water in Indiana

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — It was back to boiling water for drinking and cooking after a break in this city's $2.8-million, three-year-old water system. City Controller O. U. Sullivan issued the need for indefinite boiling against possible contamination Sunday about the time a 24-hour rupture in the main at the city's major pumping station was repaired. Sullivan said the break in the main was only a few feet from the Wabash River and seepage of river water into the city system had occurred.

City School Supt. J. Russell Hiatt said all public schools and most parochial schools would be closed until the all-safe was given. He said the schools had no facilities for boiling water.

Eight National Guard trucks with fresh water were stationed around the city of 48,000 residents.

Danny's 3rd Is Fizzle, Never Got Off Ground

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Thomas had great success for two seasons with his annual "Wonderful World of Burlesque" specials, but nobody can win them all. The third edition Sunday night on NBC never got off the ground.

The show had a lot of star power—Carol Channing, Mickey Rooney and singer Wayne Newton, and a number of luminaries from NBC's stable of stars who walked on for one-line gags.

Hospital Sketch Tasteless An expectant father sketch was more tasteless than funny. Thomas put on an Italian accent for a horrendous sketch, and a production number, perhaps inadvertently, seemed to be a broad spoof of World War I songs, including "Over There."

Miss Channing sang a couple of songs and went through a silly ballet satire, but her special talents were never really tapped. NBC's "Frank McGee Report" Sunday afternoon beat CBS to the screen with a report on the competition to get there first with a high speed, super-sonic jet passenger plane. CBS plans to treat the subject in "The Supersonic Race" Tuesday night. The NBC show, in 30 minutes, touched all the bases, here and abroad.

second of the two-hour "movies made for TV" on NBC is entirely concerned with a bomb — this one planted by a madman — aboard a passenger plane full of people.

"Reach for the Stars," still another game show, will move into the NBC daytime schedule in a minor shift Jan. 3. Bill Cullen's "Eye Guess" game show will move to a new time slot — 12:30-12:55 p. m. — and the new show will take its 10-10:25 spot. It sounds like a variation of "Truth or Consequences," since contestants must either answer questions or perform stunts.

Lost somewhere in the shuffle is "Swingin' Country," a country-Western music show with Rusty Draper and Molly Bee that has been around only since last summer.

John Williams has been signed as the temporary replacement for Sebastian Cabot in "Family Affair" until the co-star, hospitalized for ulcer treatment, can return to the studio.

Santa Joins Drive For Early Mailing

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Santa Claus is luring Rochester residents to mail their Christmas packages early this year with candy and gifts.

The rotund man in the red suit and white beard has stationed himself in the lobby of the city's main post office and is distributing, now through Dec. 21, the goodies to children who accompany their parents for package-mailing.

Postmaster John G. Bittner said the candy and gifts were donated by postal employees. The earlier that persons mail the better their chances of receiving a good present, he added.

Named to College Board

Named to Thruway Post

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Former Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach of Bethpage, Long Island, was appointed by Gov. Rockefeller Saturday to the State Thruway Authority.

He was named to the $17,000-a-year post to fill a vacancy created last June by Rockefeller's appointment of Arthur M. Cromarty of Lindenhurst to the State Supreme Court.

The appointment preserves the all-Republican complexion of the three-member Thruway board. Others on the board are R. Burdell Bixby, former GOP state chairman and Walter J. Mahoney, former state Senate majority leader. Cromarty was Suffolk County GOP chairman. Fehrenbach served as Long Island area manager of Rockefeller's re-election campaign.

Fehrenbach, 47, is a vice president of the Hempstead Bank. He represented Nassau County in the Assembly from 1958 through 1965.

Woman Accused Of Slaying Man During Quarrel

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A 46-year-old woman faces a charge of first-degree murder in the shooting of a man during a quarrel in her apartment over the woman's mother.

Police accused Miss Dorothy Atchison of Rochester of slaying Eddie Williams, also 46, of Rochester, Saturday.

Detectives said the two were drinking beer in the apartment when he remarked about her mother, whose picture was on a table. An argument followed, they added.

Miss Atchison then drew a 38-caliber pistol from a drawer and shot Williams in the chest, police said. The two had argued earlier about the presence of a phonograph repairman in her apartment, police said.

Both Miss Atchison and Williams moved here from Los Angeles within the past year, they said.

Miss Atchison's address is 125½ Weld St. Williams lived at 72 Lindhurst St.

The front of the U.S. Capitol faces east.

Mixed Views Expressed About Economy in '67

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Some economists and business leaders see the prospect of a recession in 1967, while other industry spokesmen predict a continued increase in sales and profits.

These views were expressed Friday before an audience of 300 financial and industrial leaders at a Business Forecasting Day, sponsored by the University of Rochester.

James H. Lorie, a professor of business administration at the University of Chicago, predicted flatly that "there will be a recession in 1967," probably beginning before the middle of the year, despite the fact that the federal government has the power and knowledge to prevent it.

Lorie's forecast was supported in part by Beryl Sprinkel, vice president and research director for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, who commented:

"Even if we avoid a recession, the economy surely will show less steam next year."

A more optimistic view was expressed by spokesmen for individual industries.

Donald R. Ostrander, a Bell Aerosystems Co. vice president, said aircraft industry sales next year would total $12.5 billion, up $1.2 billion from 1966.

A moderate increase of four or five per cent in the men's clothing industry was predicted by Irving Moselowitz, executive vice president of Bond Stores Inc., for the first half of 1967. He declined to venture on prospects for the last six months of the year.

Blood, Money for Viet

CANTON, N.Y. (AP)—Twenty-nine pints of blood and $1,500, donated by members of two fraternities at St. Lawrence University here, were sent to Vietnam this week to aid Americans and South Vietnamese.

The president of the Alpha Tau Omega chapter, which raised the money, asked that it be used to buy medical supplies and other necessities for South Vietnamese soldiers and civilians.

The members of Sigma Chi donated the blood through an arrangement with the Red Cross. A spokesman for the fraternity said the blood was donated in the name of Lt. David F. Niles of Brockton, Mass., who commands an infantry platoon in the war. Niles is an alumnus of St. Lawrence and a member of Sigma Chi.

The two fraternities are national organizations.

More than 5,000,000 Europeans live in Africa.

how do I know
I won't be billed for it?"

You don't have to worry about being charged for a wrong number. If you reach one, simply call the operator right away. She'll see that the charge does not appear on your bill. And if you wish, she'll place the call for you.

Incidentally, before you make an out-of-town call, it's a good idea to look in the front pages of your phone book. There you'll find helpful information on how to dial any place you want to call.

Chances of U. S., USSR Film Link Excites Tiomkin

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The first U.S.-U.S.S.R. movie project is proceeding at a deliberate pace, says producer-composer Dimitri Tiomkin, off on his sixth mission to Moscow in a year.

The position of producer is new for Tiomkin, for 34 years one of Hollywood's most noted writers of musical scores — four Oscars, 20 nominations. But he has leaped into it with customary gusto and appears to be succeeding where others have failed, in bringing about an American-Russian film venture.

Christmas in Russia

Before flying on a Christmas journey to the Soviet Union — "Not a terrible time to go!" — Tiomkin explained how the deal came about.

He had originally been signed to produce a dramatic-musical subject for National General's proposed theater-television system, to be used in the theater chain's movie houses. Tiomkin came up with the idea of the life of Tchaikovsky, which would be made in the Soviet Union. To his surprise, the Russians seemed interested.

Know of Skill

"They knew my work, strangely enough," he remarked. "During the war, I had been with Frank Capra on the making of films for the government, and one of them was 'The Battle of Russia' which the Russians liked. Also, they still remembered fondly 'The Great Waltz,' for which I adapted the Strauss music."

National General dropped its proposed program, but Tiomkin wasn't dissuaded. He began negotiations with CBS and Lowell Thomas to do the Tchaikovsky project for television.

"But then I saw the success of 'My Fair Lady' and 'The Sound of Music,'" he remarked, "and I thought to myself, it might be better to do it as a moving picture."

Warner Bros. Enthusiastic

The Russians were still interested, and Tiomkin decided he also needed the backing of a capitalistic American studio. He solicited Warner Brothers and drew an enthusiastic response.

Under the deal, the Soviet Union will pay the production costs, which Tiomkin estimates between 8 and 10 million dollars. Warner guarantees certain payments in return for rights to release "Tchaikovsky" throughout the world except in Communist countries and Finland.

"Most of the picture will be shot in Russia," said the producer, "but we will also have locations at Carnegie Hall in New York and in Paris and Florence, Italy."

Russian Cast

The cast will be mostly Russian, but an American or English actress may play the composer's patroness, Madame von Meck. The title role will be enacted by I. Smoktunovskiy, famed for his "Hamlet" Russian-style. Shooting is expected to start in March or April and continue for six months.

Tiomkin has the special advantage of being able to negotiate with the Russians in their own tongue. He was born in Russia and was permitted to go to Germany for concerts in 1920. He kept going, all the way to the United States.

3-Car Mishap in Leeds; Troopers Charge Pair

Two motorists were cited by Leeds State Police early Sunday after a three-car collision which occurred on Route 23A near Hunter.

Trooper L. N. Uva said Daniel J. Fitzpatrick, 28, of Long Island City, was driving his car along the highway when it hit a parked vehicle owned by Vito Battista of Brooklyn, and pushed that car into another vehicle owned by John P. Byrne, 30, of New York City.

Fitzpatrick was charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, and Battista, who was not in his car at the time of the mishap was cited for having an unregistered vehicle. The summonses are returnable before Justice of the Peace Robert Cooley at Hunter.

Lillian Flaherty of Brooklyn, a passenger in Byrne's car, was treated at Green County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, for a whiplash of the neck.

GUIDANCE SERVICE FOR PROSPECTIVE TEACHERS

The nationwide shortage of qualified teachers will become even more critical in the school year 1967-1968. We in Kingston were fortunate this year in that we were able to start the school year with a full staff. If the current trend continues the shortage will affect Kingston next year.

Therefore, the Board of Education of the Kingston City Schools, Consolidated, upon the recommendation of Superintendent of Schools, Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, has authorized the establishment of a guidance service to assist prospective teachers in our area.

We are sure that teaching positions may be of interest to many people in the following categories:

Former teachers who have left teaching for a variety of reasons

College graduates who do not have certification as teachers

Out of state teachers who have moved into our area and seek New York State certification

Persons lacking a few credits for college graduation

Others who may be interested for a variety of reasons

We offer you the opportunity to come in and discuss your situation with us. The children of our area are going to need teachers. Won't you help?

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Dec. 12, the 346th day of 1966. There are 19 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1894, a law was passed permitting the government to collect taxes on income of more than $4,000 annually. The Supreme Court declared the income tax unconstitutional the following year.

On this date:

In 1787, Pennsylvania became the second state to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1870, the first Negro member of the House of Representatives, Joseph Rainey of South Carolina was sworn in.

In 1901, Guglielmo Marconi sent the first wireless telegraph signal across the Atlantic.

Ten years ago — The U.N. Security Council voted unanimously to recommend Japan for admission to the world organization as the U.N.'s 80th member. However, the council refused to recommend Outer Mongolia, a Soviet candidate for membership.

Five years ago — The Soviet Union demanded the United States arrest and turn over to it West German Gen Adolf Heusinger, chairman of the NATO military committee in Washington. The Russians said they wanted to try the general as a war criminal. Heusinger was the German army's chief of operations during World War II. The United States rejected the Soviet charges.

New 'Buildup' in Viet

Hope Making 15th Christmas Tour; Diller Doing Part

NEW YORK (AP) — As Christmas draws near a different sort of buildup is taking place in Vietnam. It's an entertainment escalation, and the "old soldiers" heading for the combat zone include Bob Hope, Martha Raye, Frances Langford, Anita Bryant and Johnny Grant.

Rates Hash Marks
Hope, who ought to rate as many hash marks as a 30-year sergeant, is making his 15th Christmas tour. "You should have seen me at Annapolis," he said. "I was a smash there."

Phyllis Diller, making her first trip to Vietnam as a member of the Hope entourage, said she is helping Lady Bird Johnson's "Keep America Beautiful" campaign by leaving the count. She is taking along a half-million pieces of bubble gum, which ought to set a few jaws wagging.

The USO shows lined up for Vietnam over the holidays include the Bob Hope show, Martha Raye, Frances Langford, and the Clara Ward Singers, a Gospel group.

Disc jockey Johnny Grant, making his 29th overseas tour, is taking along actresses Tippi Hedren and Diane McBain to cheer up servicemen from Saigon to Da Nang. "The soldiers call me the GI Santa Claus who brings them pretty girls," Grant said.

Other Troupes Stated
Other troupes — including two college groups of will entertain American servicemen in Europe, the Pacific, Caribbean, Alaska, and Greenland.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:
Isn't it strange how babies seem to prefer makeshift toys to expensive ones?

Recently, when we had our daughter with us for a few days, I found she was very fond of a little small, red tin baking powder can I had emptied.

Being smooth, it was hard for her to hold onto it. So Granny put on her thinking cap and came up with this idea:

First I put a discarded plastic checkers inside the empty can (anything that rattles will do), and screwed the cap on tight.

I then dropped the can and all into an empty, plastic mesh plastic onion bag and tied three or four good big knots securely at the top.

Presto, a new toy for baby, which has become a favorite and it didn't cost Granny one penny.

Now she can play with her little baggie-can for hours without it slipping from her little hands, and the mesh onion bag becomes a safety factor.

How in the world did Grannies ever get along B.H.F.H. (before Heloise's fabulous hints)? Keep them coming.

Mrs. N. L. Klingensmith

And how did the world ever get along without Grandmas like you?

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Here is a must which will help thousands who are on crutches or canes and are caught out in the weather when it rains.

If you completely cover the crutch tip with a piece of cloth about five inches square and firmly secure it with rubber bands it will prevent many nasty falls.

Rubber tips on wet, slick, pavement or sidewalks can be deadly.

Many people caught out in the rain are terror stricken and have to wait for help or until the rain dries up.

I used cutches for many, many years before learning this vital trick.

Ken Caruthers

Dear Ken:

I think you are the world's greatest for sending in this tip. Not only will it help the permanently lame, but especially those who are temporarily on crutches. We don't even know how to use them!

Dear Heloise:

I never throw away any left-over mashed potatoes.

If there is a lot, I make potato salad and if only a little bit, it is wonderful for thickening different kinds of soups.

C. Dunning

Dear Heloise:

If most women are like me, they don't like to get in the bathtub and have it all gritty from the cleanser previously used.

After I scour the tub with the cleanser, I use the wash cloth and a bar of bath soap and wash the tub and rinse it again.

This gets rid of all the grit.

Mrs. D. Cavanaugh

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

Having just completed a move into a new home from one we had occupied for eight years, I have a bit of advice for any of your readers who may be contemplating a move.

In a word — DON'T!!!

Mrs. D. B. (Dumbell)

Dear Heloise:

I keep my cookies fresh and crisp in the jar by placing a crushed paper towel or paper napkin in the bottom of the jar, before I put the cookies in.

Irene Howard

Dear Heloise:

Having two sons, ages eight and seven, I have found an easy way to the right owner of blue jeans at a glance.

I put the first name of each boy on the inside back waistband with an ink laundry marker. Now there is no guesswork and better yet no fussing because of mixed up jeans.

Mrs. T. N. Kirkpatrick.

Dear Heloise:

When I'm driving alone with my 6-month-old daughter, I tie her foot (pacifier) on the drawing of her snow suit.

When she loses the foot, I can easily find it and still keep my attention on the road.

Janet Angell

Moscow's Plans On Heaven, Earth Show Differences

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

What the Soviet Union says it is willing to do about outer space somehow fails to square with what Moscow repeatedly says it intends to do on earth.

Moscow has agreed on terms of a treaty barring mass destruction weapons from outer space, but Soviet propaganda pursues the theme of "liberation struggles" aimed at world domination by the "working class," by which the Communists mean themselves.

Even as the space agreement was being hammered out, Pravda, the Communist party paper, was carrying instructive articles for Communists, harking back to the "historic significance" of the 1957 and 1960 Moscow declarations.

Those two world Communist conferences laid down a blueprint for Communist expansion by use of the "liberation struggle" device.

Last week, Pravda's editorial noted that the Soviet line was aimed at "securing a peaceful international atmosphere."

This, it said, would increase "the opportunity for the victorious development of the class struggle by the proletariat and the struggle of oppressed peoples for their social and national liberation in any form, including through wars of liberation."

If that is the real aim, then an agreement on the use of outer space has less meaning than elation from Washington might suggest. The Soviet line, as sketched by Pravda, implies that peaceful coexistence and lessened tension in the West are components of plans to quicken violent revolution.

Soviet statements, however, must also be examined against Moscow's current problems in the Red world. The expressed determination to pursue "liberation struggles" by all means, including wars, can be defensive in the light of Red Chinese hostility to the Kremlin and the contest for influence within the Communist world itself.

Smylie Says LBJ Might Reject 2nd Presidential Bid

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This is one of those strange moments in American political history, a kind of bewildered searching, and maybe wishing.

Events of the past few days illustrate it.

One was out in Colorado where Idaho's Gov. Robert E. Smylie milled around at the Republican governors' conference, making a prediction about President Johnson.

Smylie could hardly have been smiling, since he was defeated in Idaho's Aug. 2 primary election, but he predicted Johnson would not be a candidate for re-election in 1968.

He thinks Johnson's health and what he called the "mood of discontent" in the country may persuade the President not to try for a second term.

Smylie could be right. For a man who has been soaked, bathed and massaged in politics, Johnson for many months has seen his popularity in the public opinion polls going steadily down without doing much to offset it.

But the Republicans are in no enviable position themselves and Smylie's prediction about Johnson may be no more than a wistful wish that Johnson, the most adroit, nimble, and powerful obstacle on the Republican road to the presidency, would please step aside by the time of the next election.

The Colorado conference of the Republican Governors Association which Smylie attended was hardly more than a lot of polite palaver, a kind of board of inspection, where the Republicans looked one another over presidential prospect.

Romney 'Thunders'

News stories out of the conference told how Michigan's Gov. George Romney "thundered." While Romney still insists he hasn't decided about running in 1968, he certainly acts like a man trying to line up support.

But this thundering — which some may interpret later as dramatic — manner may turn into one of his severest handicaps, particularly if he does not produce more ideas than he has so far.

On the other hand, California's conservative Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan, according to the news stories from Colorado, was a far easier figure to listen to, not any more original than Romney, but relaxed, and so far without any presidential pretensions.

In short, at this moment in their history there is not a Republican in sight who Republicans could say is their boy for two years from now.

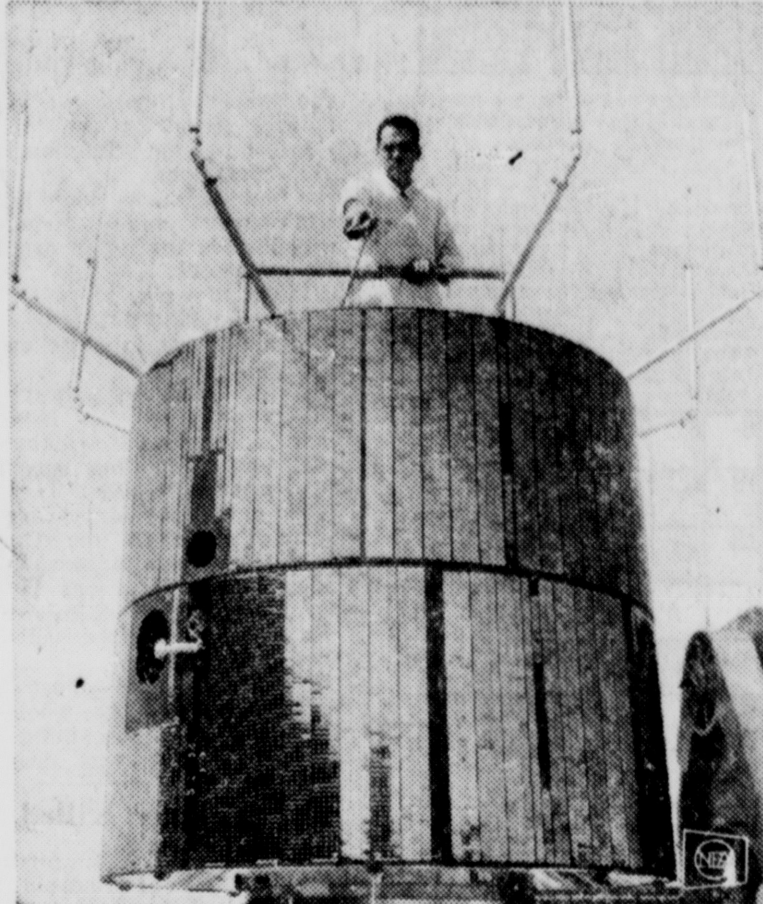

But, while all this was going on in Colorado, something else was happening in Wisconsin where Ray C. Bliss, the chairman of the Republican National Committee, didn't sound too cheerful.

New Faces in GOP

There he was telling the GOP that while there is little room among Democrats for new ideas, with the party faithful standing in line for room at the top, the Republican party has been eroding at the bottom for years, finding it ever more difficult to discover people willing to run for office.

Among Republicans, he said, there is a shortage of "qualified candidates," campaign managers, political researchers, public relations experts and professional fund raisers.

When the facts are all known Bliss may prove to have been

UCCC Class Tours Local Company

To make the course more meaningful, Professor Walter Hopkins recently took his Tool and Fixture Design class at Ulster County Community College on a field trip to the Ulster Tool & Die Corp., Kingston.

At the plant, Frank Falatyn

one of the main reasons the Republicans did as well as they did in 1966 — not because of any issues, but because he worked hard in getting out votes.

The Democrats had nothing to match him. Both parties look rocky now.

Work to Resume Today at WE Plant at Bath

BATH, N.Y. (AP) — Production resumes today at the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant here following a 40-day strike by 600 flint glass workers.

The workers, members of Local 1013 of the Independent American Flint Glass Workers Union, voted Saturday, 353-199, to accept a new three-year contract that provides for an immediate 11 1/2-cent hourly wage increase. The pact also provides for a 6-to-12-cent hourly increase in the second year and again in 1968.

Vacation and pension benefits also were improved.

James Saxton, local vice president, said even with the increases, the pay raises still leave Westinghouse employees here 20 to 70 cents an hour below what workers earn at other corporation plants.

Present hourly rates vary according to job classification and were not available.

The pact was accepted Wednesday by union and management negotiators and was the same proposal with one exception, that the members rejected, 233-218, on Nov. 27.

The exception was that management and union officials have agreed now to discuss the transfer of employees to another division prior to the phasing out of the electronic tube division, tentatively scheduled for April, a union spokesman said.

Walter Fleck, plant manager, said the plant now produces mercury vapor lamps and tubes.

The company plans to increase the lamp operation once tube production is discontinued.

Says LBJ Can Look For Defeat in '68

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson "can look forward to defeat in 1968" unless he changes his domestic and foreign policies, the national director of Americans for Democratic Action said Saturday.

Leon Shull, in a speech prepared for a meeting of the ## board, also cited Johnson's unpopularity as one reason for Republican gains in last month's elections.

"The administration should recognize that the 1966 election was a defeat and that if the President had been running he might well have lost," Shull said.

He said if Johnson proceeds with plans "for major substantial cuts or lack of forward motion in the Great Society programs, if he is going to develop his future programs in cooperation with and in consensus with Senator Dirksen and Congressman Ford, he can look forward to defeat in 1968."

Shull referred to Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen and House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford.

In reviewing the elections, Shull said: "Unlike other recent presidents, President Johnson does not seem to have a committed constituency. While it is perfectly true that other presidents had often aroused emotional opposition, nevertheless there was always a hard core of loyal devotees who were for him through thick and thin. This particular element seems to be missing here."

A Volkswagen, obviously.

It's easy to spot a VW. Even with enough snow on it to hide the beetle shape.

It's the one that keeps moving.

A VW will go up icy hills when other cars won't go at all. The engine is in back, where it gives the rear wheels much better traction.

That's half the problem. The other half is to keep the engine working. So the VW engine is cooled with air, not water. There's no need for anti-freeze, no chance of the block cracking. (No boiling over in summer, either.) No draining. No flushing. No rust.

You can park a VW outdoors in sub-zero weather or dig it out of a snowbank; it's ready to roll as soon as you turn the key.

If there isn't any ice and snow around when you try a VW, don't think you can't judge the car's extraordinary abilities.

Just come in and take a VW for a run. Through some sand or mud.

Javits Throws Hat in Ring for 1968 VP Position

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen Jacob K Javits R-NY has firmly projected himself as a candidate for the Republican vice presidential nomination in 1968 with or without Michigan Gov George Romney.

"I think I'm entitled to national consideration," Javits said Sunday in an appearance on the WCBS-TV program "Newsmakers."

He added "I don't want to minimize it all. I think I'm entitled to a national position by what I've done."

Javits said he was not "looked in" on a candidacy with Romney who is being mentioned prominently for the GOP presidential nomination in 1968.

The senior senator from New York said Romney's "administrative talent, sincerity and moral sense" make him attractive. He said however that if that were all Romney would be a "fine fellow" but not presidential material.

"I think he's got a great deal more," Javits said.

In a reference to the 1964 GOP campaign Javits said the "party is not going the Goldwater way" in 1968. The senator did not support Goldwater's presidential candidacy.

"I think as for 1968 I see no candidate that will cause me any similar difficulty and therefore I have every expectation of being able to support our nominee in 1968," Javits said.

Of Mayor John V. Lindsay's recent comments on national and international problems Javits said "I don't think the mayor wants to be ruled out as a national figure."

He added that Lindsay's chances for national office depend on the mayor's performance in governing New York City.

Rocky Suggests Tunnels Under Long Is. Sound

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has asked the Tri-State Transportation Commission to study the feasibility of building tunnels under Long Island Sound as an alternative to the construction of bridges.

In a letter to William J. Roman, chairman of the commission, Rockefeller asked that the bridge proposals be reviewed and consideration be given to tunnels.

Rockefeller told Roman he hoped to have the results of the study in time for deliberation by the 1967 Legislature.

Rockefeller noted that last year the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority and the State Public Works Department had reported that studies indicated a bridge between Nassau County and Westchester County was "desirable and economically feasible."

In addition, the governor told Roman, the commission's own report on transportation needs indicated a regional need for both a Nassau - Westchester bridge and a Suffolk County - Connecticut bridge across the sound.

The governor said that last winter the Long Island Sound Bridge Study Committee suggested a bridge from eastern Suffolk County to eastern Connecticut. He added that the committee also was exploring the alternative possibility of a crossing from the Port Jefferson area to the Bridgeport, Conn., area.

Rockefeller also asked that the study include the possibility for either a bridge or tunnel for railroad use.

Marbletown Group To Elect Thursday

On Thursday, at 7:30 p. m. the Citizens Organization of Marbletown will meet at the American Legion Hall in Stone Ridge. There will be election of officers for the coming year.

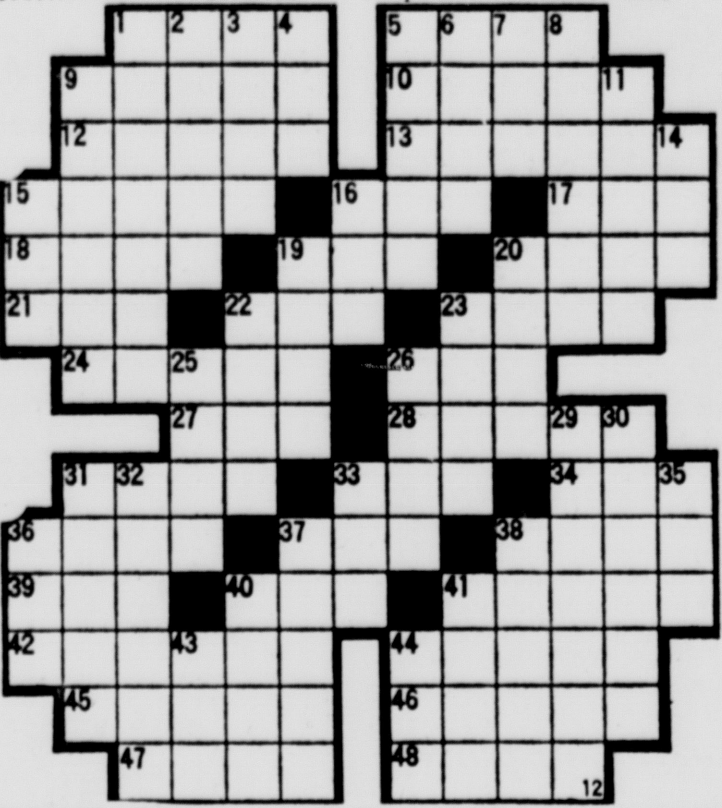

There will be a report from the committee that attended the County Board of Supervisors' meeting Friday, Dec. 9, at the County Building in Kingston.

Members are urged to attend the meeting. Anyone wishing to join the group is welcome.

New Neighbor Hubert May Be A Bit Eccentric

By KELLY SMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has told his new neighbors he has "lots of eccentricities — you'll get used to them."

The neighborhood, a combination of chic and run-down, doesn't seem to mind. Two thousand persons turned out Sunday at three gatherings in the area to welcome the Humphreys to their new home, an apartment in a fancy high-rise building.

Humphrey gave them the ground rules for living around a vice president:

"I like to walk."
"I like to talk."
"I expect you to come up and say hello."

As for Mrs. Humphrey, she said, "Some of you have already seen me out walking my little dog, or at the supermarket. Please say hello."

The vice president says he now can walk to the Capitol. Their former home in suburban Chevy Chase, Md., was 45 minutes by car from downtown.

He also indicated he had to be rooted into moving.

He said, "Like most husbands, I resisted the whole operation. I was screaming and hollering as she was dragging me into the 20th century."

The Humphreys moved about six weeks ago, but have been out of town most of the time since.

"I'll tell you a secret," said Muriel Humphrey. "I can get him home for lunch now."

She left the welcome parties saying, "We're glad to be ordinary people. See you at the supermarket."

Pick Up 41 Survivors

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — A British freighter was en route to Jamaica today with 41 survivors from the French tanker Iphigenia, which exploded Sunday about 300 miles north of San Juan. One of the tanker's crewmen was reported killed and two others were missing. The Iphigenia was en route from Montreal, Canada, to Cienfuegos, Cuba.

Head Injuries Fatal To Schoolboy Cager

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A Monroe County medical examiner said Gregory had been examined after the accident by a family physician, who apparently found him all right. The boy lapsed into a coma Saturday and was brought to the hospital, he said. The death was ruled an accident. The family lives at 63 Verona Drive.

Flooding Poses New Problem for Chautauqua Lake

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Residents along the shore of Chautauqua Lake, besieged earlier this month by more than three feet of snow, had another problem today—flooding of their yards.

Melting of the accumulated snow, coupled with frequent heavy rain last week, caused water from the 18-mile-long lake to spill over its banks at several points, Supervisor Charles W. McDonnell Jr. of the Town of North Harmony said Sunday.

The lake's only outlet, Warner Dam at Jamestown, was handling its maximum flow, he said, adding:

"If we have more rain or more precipitation, we will be in trouble for sure. There is no place for the water to go except further up the shoreline."

McDonnell is chairman of the Lake Navigation Committee of the Chautauqua County Board of Supervisors.

Effluent from overflowing septic tanks has been forced into the flood waters, causing a health hazard, he said. McDonnell said that during a weekend tour of the lake shore, he noted that the Stow and Mayville areas had been hardest hit by the flooding. The latter community received 52½ inches of snow during a storm Dec. 1-3. A man who owns a vacation cottage at Stow reported that the water surrounding his property was nearly knee-high Sunday.

BRIDGE Proper Technique Has Exceptions

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Our old friend, Gordon Keel of Vancouver, British Columbia, writes, "You have said that when both sides lead the same suit one is crazy. Here is a hand that disproves this theory. I was certain that the bidding and the opening trump lead had marked West with both minor suit kings. In that case the winning play had to be a trump return at trick two."

We have also said that there is no "always" and no "never" in bridge. You only want to play the same suit your opponents lead on rare occasions. This was one of them. So you return hearts at trick two.

West led a spade at trick three. Gordon ruffed, entered dummy by finessing the queen of diamonds, ruffed a second spade, led a diamond to dummy's ace, ruffed the last spade and threw West in with his last diamond. Dummy's fourth diamond was now good and poor West had his choice of leading a club up to Gordon's ace-queen, or a spade which would allow Gordon to ruff in his own hand and to discard a club from dummy.

Gordon points out that he would have been crazy if West had shown up with four diamonds and East had held the king of clubs. His play worked and it was unquestionably the best line but Gordon did not have to return a heart at trick two. He could have taken the diamond finesse instead, ruffed a spade and led the second heart at trick four. The trap to avoid was not to release the ace of diamonds before leading that second trump. If Gordon had done that he would not have been able to ruff out all dummy's spades and West would not have been caught in the end play.

Yule Lights Cause Brief Blackout

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A heavy demand for power by Christmas lights contributed to cause a brief blackout for nearly 10,000 customers in Irondequoit Sunday night, a spokesman for the Rochester Gas & Electric Co. says. The power failure, confined to the suburb's northeastern section, kept homes and traffic lights in the dark for periods ranging from 22 to 54 minutes, the spokesman said. Workmen traced the cause to an underground, 11,000-volt transmission cable, which he said had been overloaded because of heavy power demands, including those imposed by the Christmas lights.

MONEY MANAGERS

The entire securities world is undergirded by the largest and strongest banking system in the universe — the Federal Reserve. That is why this system's operations should be understood by investors.

Today, the resources of this giant system total more than $64,000,000,000! As this is written, there are 6,175 commercial banks in America that are members of the Federal Reserve System. All of these banks carry reserve accounts with the F.R.Bs.

The vast resources of the Federal Reserve Banks are available to the member banks. Right now, member banks can borrow from the Federal Reserve at 4½ per cent. Thus, a bank with suitable collateral (government bonds or prime commercial paper) can borrow $1,000,000 for $45,000 a year.

Or a member bank can sell U.S. Government securities to the Federal Reserve for Federal Reserve Notes — the standard money of America. On November 9, 1966, for example, the Federal Reserve Banks owned $43,281,000,000 of Treasury obligations.

When the Federal Reserve Banks buy Treasury bonds from member banks, money supplies are increased. And the reverse is true: When the Federal Reserve Banks sell bonds to member banks, cash resources contract.

As this column has stated occasionally, the Federal Reserve Board in Washington is the most powerful money-managing group in the world. Its members set the basic interest rate in this great country. They can make money "cheap" or "expensive."

Right now, money is expensive — interests are high. And with such conditions obtaining, high-grade bond prices are low, reflecting tight money.

In New York City, a bank with over $15,000,000,000 in resources is paying from 5 per cent to 5½ per cent on certificates of deposit. Nothing can more clearly delineate "tight" money conditions than this statement. And a top officer of this bank believes that high interest rates will continue indefinitely.

Every investor in America should become conversant with money market conditions, and that is easy to do. All one must ask is the discount rate at the Federal Reserve Banks?

Every banker in America should know all about the conditions of the money market at all times.

Today there are about 20,000,000 stockholders in this country and their numbers are increasing rapidly. Investment counselors who have no axe to grind are hard to find. Yet, their services are in growing demand.

The complexities of the money market, the fiscal operations of the United States Government, the profit, earnings and dividend policies of corporations and the proper interpretations of these gigantic forces require the professional talents of thousands of professional money managers.

Just as there are about 300,000 doctors of medicine caring for around 196,000,000 people in America, so is there great need for at least 25,000 alert and able investment counselors to supervise the investment and speculative activities of millions of stockholders.

A professional money manager is not interested in commissions or profits. He charges an annual Dear Abby . . .

Wife Has Double Trouble at Home

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been separated for three months. We have five children under 6 years old, and I am seven months pregnant now. There is this tramp in town who has been spoiling my husband. She bought him about $300 worth of new clothes, a new rifle, a fishing rod and reel, plus she keeps him in liquor and cigars, and has furnished him with a car and gas. He hasn't even been working because she gives him spending money.

He is 23, and she is 26. His mother is all for it. She says he is lucky to have a woman who is so good to him, and besides, now that he isn't working he has time to see her. I can compete with this woman, Abby. I still love my husband, no matter what, and want him back. Please help me.

DEAR ABBY: You are fighting a losing battle over what appears to be a doubtful "prize." You can't force a man to live with you, but the law can make him support you and your children. The apple (your husband) didn't fall far from the tree (his mother), and your acts as tho he was bruised in the fall.

DEAR ABBY: I may be old-fashioned, but I think it's in very poor taste to give money for Christmas. My mother-in-law sends my child a check every Christmas, and I get furious with her. I have been so tempted to send it back or to send HER a check in the same amount.

I feel if she can't take the time (of which she has plenty) to shop for her grandchild, she can just keep her money. My child would be more impressed with a candy bar sent by mail than he is with grandma's check. Should I tell her to forget it?

NO NAME, PLEASE

your child that the check is his to be saved or spent for something he wants. I think it's preferable to giving a child a gift he neither likes nor can use, but feels he must keep (or worse yet, wear) because it's grandma's Christmas gift. One thing about money, the color is always right, and you don't have to worry about "fit." It fits into any pocketbook.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to "HURT," whose husband went to an office party after telling her that no wives were invited, but she later learned that wives HAD BEEN invited.

For a long time I believed those stories about office parties, retirement parties, picnics, and outings where no wives were invited, only to find out that not only were they invited, but my husband had been escorting another man's wife and introducing her as his own.

Tell "HURT" to check to see if her husband didn't take some other "wife." EXPERIENCED

Romney Carries 1968 Ambitions To New Forum

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's George Romney carries his presidential ambitions into a new forum today after what one colleague called "some hard sells and some soft sell" aimed at other Republican governors.

The Michigan governor is a center of GOP presidential attention as the Republican Coordinating Committee meets to rehearse in the party's election comeback and talk about the political road ahead.

Nixon, Barry Due

Two men who could stand in Romney's presidential path are due at the session, too. One is former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, trailing Romney in postelection polls but rated a likely rival to head the next GOP ticket.

The other is Barry Goldwater, still dissatisfied with Romney's explanation of his refusal to endorse the 1964 Republican ticket the Arizona led.

On the eve of the meeting, the Washington Post reported that students and political leaders listed as temporary officers of a "Youth for Romney" organization knew nothing about the group and had not authorized use of their names.

Formation of 111 Youth for Romney groups had been announced at the Colorado Springs, Colo., conference of the Republican Governors Association by Merlo K. Gates, an unsuccessful candidate for the State Legislature from Wichita, Kan., who identified himself as chairman of the youth group.

But the Post quoted five of the 13 asserted temporary officers

G-U Names Butler, Rodman to Top Posts

EAST PATERSON, N. J. — Thomas C. Butler, president and chief executive officer of the Union Company since 1960, has been elected chairman of the board of directors. He will continue as chief executive officer of the 538-store chain, one of the nation's largest food and general merchandising retailing organizations.

Charles G. Rodman has been elected president of Grand Union. With the company since 1952, Rodman has served since last December as executive vice-president with full responsibility for its 508-store supermarket division and food operations in the 30-unit Grand Ward department store division. He has been a vice-president since 1960 and a director since 1962.

Butler succeeds John E. Raasch as chairman. Raasch is retiring from this post, which he has held since 1960. He will remain a director of the company.

as saying they didn't know about the group. Several indicated the names had come from a list of sponsors of a national student leadership seminar organized in May 1965.

Pennsylvania's retiring Gov. William W. Scranton described the hard sell-soft sell tactics the Romney forces followed Friday and Saturday at Colorado Springs.

Mind Not Made Up

Romney insisted, privately as well as publicly, that he had not made up his mind about a presidential bid, and wouldn't, for about six months. But one Romney associate said it would be naive to deny that the governor is testing the political climate for a White House bid.

Scranton said Romney had picked up strength at the conference, although no commitments were claimed. "I think George probably went out stronger than he came in," said Scranton, who made a futile nomination bid of his own at the 1964 GOP National Convention.

"I can tell you that there were some soft sells and I can tell you that there were some hard sells," Scranton said in an interview.

He did not elaborate, and other governors indicated they had not been approached by Romney men seeking support.

1,000 Hail New Addition to Mid-Town Area

More than 1,000 guests of First Federal Savings and Loan Association "open house" of their new Central Broadway Office, Saturday, were in accord that Shakespeare to the contrary, one CAN "make a silk out of a sow's ear."

Yes, Saturday was "thanksgiving day" at 632 Broadway at O'Neil Street, as one of the finest restorations of early Kingston and Americana were officially unveiled.

Long before the doors were open for scheduled festivities the crowd gathered. Among the early arrivals were those whose nostalgic recollections were of their having been youngsters and buying their first saucers of ice cream at McBride's Ice Cream parlors on the very spot. Some recalled that their more recent purchase of re-treads at Lowe's Others, appreciative of what can be artistically accomplished by way of restoration of Kingston's fine old neglected buildings, were eager to express their gratitude with their initial deposits at First Federal Savings and Loan Association. All admired and approved the results of the creative effort to restore the mid-town section of Kingston to its original authentic beauty.

Depicts Anticipated Growth

Traffic within the building, at teller windows, in the lounge, at the new account desk, delayed the ribbon cutting ceremonies. Finally, Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan was able to cut the ribbon and in a few well chosen words depict the anticipated growth of the area with First Federal setting the pace.

Deweese W. DeWitt, president of the Association, recalled the opening of the first Central Broadway office with its subsequent development and outlined the eventual economic expansion to come. Credit for the handsome housing of the restored Lowe building DeWitt attributed to the architect, Harry Halverson, saying that "it is the artistic triumph of his long, successful career."

Praising the Association for its preception of potential economic trends, Alderman John Nacarrato welcomed the opportunity to thank First Federal for enhancing the area. George Svirsky, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, could not conceal his pride and pleasure in having participated in the decision as a director of First Federal Savings and Loan Association to restore the landmark. He assured the audience that the past performance of the Association since its humble beginnings on the Strand in 1889, will serve as a guide to continued community service. Others participating in the official ceremonies included Harry

Appraisers to Dine, Wednesday Night

A regular monthly meeting of the Mid-Hudson Chapter 123, Society of Real Estate Appraisers will be held Wednesday night at the Little Brook Farm Restaurant, Little Brook Farm Turnpike. Dinner will be served at 7 p. m.

There will be installation of officers. Wilfred Raynor of Warwick will be the installing officer.

Speaker will be William J. McIntyre Jr., of Newburgh. He will discuss the requirements of the SRA Designation.

Wives, business associates and guests are invited. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Adele Royval, president, with reservations closing today.

Thayer, master of ceremonies, Judge John B. Sterley, chairman of the Board and Counsel; Harry Halverson for 1st vice-chairman of the Board of Directors; George C. Swart, second vice-chairman; Alexander J. McKittrick, executive vice-president and treasurer; William F. Paulus, assistant vice-president and Samuel D. Bradley, CBO manager and assistant vice president.

Phillip Weiler of New York City represented the Federal Home Loan Bank. He was flanked by Joseph J. Kelly, Clair S. Sheaffer and William D. Costello, auditor.

Winners of the opening day gifts were David Broughton, RFD #1, Tillson, TV set; E. Gibbons, 96 Farmont Avenue clock radio; Mrs. Ann Rylance, 44 West Chestnut Street, tape recorder and Mildred Plumb, 15 Belvedere Street, carving set. Other awards were: Transistor radio, awarded Mr. Gallagher, 74 Green Street; Hi-fi stereo records, Jeanette Baggot, 93 Lucas Avenue; Mrs. Vera Proal, 5 Ledgewood Drive, Hyde Park; Mrs. Charles Fous, 40 Elm Street, Saugerties; and Barry Dunn, Clover Street, Saugerties.

In the reception line with the Board of Directors of the Association during the day long fest was Angela M. Goffredi, interior designer. Her color correlations, selection of appropriate appointments and adherence to authentic simplicity of style fused into the fine fluid flow of exterior as well as interior.

Compliments crowded the emotional cash boxes all the day. Overheard was the appreciation of Mrs. Hazel Parks, 34 Franklin Street, who, 15 years ago, attended the opening of the first mid-town office. She said that "convenience alone was not her reason for being a CBO customer...no, honestly it is a pleasure to be served by Miss Virginia Cave...she has become my first financial friend." Miss Cave has been with First Federal Savings and Loan Association for more than 18 years.

Alfred Ronder, president of the Savings and Loan of Kingston was most expansive in his praise of "your charming home." Fred Johnston, celebrated authority on early Americana, climaxed the day-long compliments by declaring "it is beautiful in its understated elegance and authentic simplicity." Long a disciple of the necessity of restoring the true tradition of Kingston in time and history he "congratulated First Federal upon their cultural contribution toward the preservation of Kingston's rich heritage."

But Forgetting Is Difficult

Relaxing Part Easy for Viet Veterans at Phoenix Hotel

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The "Christmas Company" — 54 Vietnam veterans straight from the battlefields — have dug in at a plush hotel in Phoenix for a week of relaxation and forgetting.

The relaxing came easy. The forgetting was difficult.

"When a good buddy gets hit, you want to cry. But you can't, you've got work to do," said Army Spec. 5 Ives Mosley, 21, of Reidsville, Ga.

He looked up at the 10-foot Christmas tree he and some of the other men were decorating and the former medic with the 101st Airborne Division shook his head.

"The war seems a long time ago, a long way away," said Mosley, who left Vietnam about a week ago.

"I've seen enough action for a lifetime, for a dozen lifetimes," said Pfc. Michael Passaro, 19, of Ozone Park, N.Y.

"In Vietnam you got so that you don't have any feelings. A buddy gets hit, but you've got to watch out for your own skin," said Passaro, who was with the Army's 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division.

Looking from windows of the Camelback Inn, Mosley, Passaro and their buddies shielded their eyes as the bright Arizona sun reflected from leaves of a palm tree and the glistening swimming pool beneath it.

A golf course provided a deep green background for the riding stables. It seemed unreal to the men, who only a week ago were plodding through Vietnam rice fields.

Pretty girls served drinks and hors d'oeuvres. Some of the men tried to get into the swing of things by decorating the Christmas tree.

Some succeeded, but others smiled for a while and wandered away. For them there was still too much to remember — and forget.

The men are the guests of hotel owner Jack Stewart, who invited a similar number of men from Vietnam last Christmas.

"This is one way we can express our appreciation for the sacrifices these fighting men

IBM Enlarges Retirement and Medical Benefits

ARMONK — Increased income for retirees and a new medical program for handicapped children of employees were announced this week by IBM Chairman Thomas J. Watson Jr., in a telephone hookup to the company's employees at locations throughout the country. The increased benefit applies to those IBM employees whose retirement income is based on length of service alone. This is one of two formulas computed to determine which will produce the greater amount; the other, a formula based both on earnings and length of service, is not affected. The computation of monthly retirement income, based on length of service at age 65, will be raised from $4.50 times the number of years of service to $6. For employees who retire early, life income under the service-based formula will increase proportionately from $4.50 per year of service at age 55 up to $6 at age 65. This increase will also be extended to employees who have already retired. The new medical program relates to financial aid for employees children under age 23 who are physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed, or mentally retarded. "We would like to do more to help," Watson said, "by providing some assistance towards the cost of care and treatment in qualified residential institutions and day centers, as well as certain treatments by qualified psychologists." He said that this program "represents something of a pioneering effort" on IBM's part. Watson also expressed his gratitude for the time and effort employees had devoted to the job during 1966, and announced that the Friday before Christmas and the Tuesday after New Years had been added to the IBM holiday schedule in order to provide two special four-day weekends this year.

Woodstock News

Asking Donations For Yule Giving By Cheer Clubbers

Three of Woodstock's finest, Police Chief Paul Senecal, Betty Eichler and Mrs. Leon Carey, are acting as an advance guard for Santa Claus this year. This small band of Santa's helpers, who go under the name of The Golden Cheer Club, graciously request the help of the public; urge that local residents participate in securing donations to buy Christmas presents for more than 20 of Woodstock's gracefully aging citizens, who currently reside at the Lake Hill Rest Home.

The home is operated by the Rev. and Mrs. Myckland in what used to be the residence, during his Woodstock sojourn, of famed writer-philosopher Will Durant. The elderly residents who live there, some of whom are supported through welfare funds, find some brightness in life in meal time conversations and watching television.

About this time of year, however, they begin looking forward to Christmas dinner at Deane's, a treat to which they are annually invited by Rotron Manufacturing Company, Inc. This is a highlight of the year for these senior citizens, who enjoy being transported by local businessmen in cars to the restaurant, the evening of feasting and fun, and donning the holiday corsages supplied for the event.

This year, as in the past, however, the Golden Cheer Club would like to augment the dinner by giving these deserving citizens, who have given so much to their families and friends over the years, as many Christmas presents as possible. Cigars for the men, candies and other sweets for everyone, and clothing, too, are always appreciated under the tree on Christmas morning.

Want Stockings Filled

Most of the ladies and gentlemen at the home are anywhere from their late fifties to early nineties. Still, they each have a small Christmas list which they submit to Santa each year and are hopeful, even in the later years of their lives, that they, too, will have their stockings filled.

Those who live at the Lake Hill Rest Home and its twin "annex" a mile away find the non-sectarian rest and convalescent residences cheerful places to be. The Mycklands have a thorough background in their chosen field of endeavor; ran the Norwegian Christian Home for the Aged in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, for more than 20 years. They like the people they care for and the work here. And, most of all, they would like to see them have a December and a Christmas worth remembering.

The Golden Cheer Club has the same hope and is asking the people of Woodstock to remember the people who have always remembered them. To give to the aging and to the helpless, they remind us, has always been the finest of human qualities. Those who can be asked to send donations to Chief Paul Senecal, Mrs. George Eichler or Mrs. Leon Carey, at the Woodstock branch of The National Bank of Orange and Ulster Counties.

Playreaders to Meet

The playreading group of Performing Arts of Woodstock will study "The Playboys of the Western World" by John Synge Tuesday at the Crosswell home, 41 Glasco Turnpike. This will be a prepared reading and all those interested are invited to attend at 8:30 p. m.

What was so great about Alexander?

In the 4th century B.C. in the northern Egyptian city bearing his name, Alexander of Macedon founded a storehouse for wisdom, art and skills from the past. It attracted scholars from the whole western world and while called a library, it was actually one of the world's first universities.

This contribution alone earns Alexander his title, "the Great."

Today, few of us can found a college, but most of us, through our gifts, can keep one going. This, too, is a great thing.

Give to the college of your choice.

MATTHEW E. FUZO
Name Local Man
Sales Manager

Recently appointed sales manager for the Northeastern Division of Midland Laboratories, Dubuque, Iowa, was Matthew E. Fuzo, of Woodstock. He has been associated with Midland since 1957 as a sales representative and consultant in the maintenance and sanitation chemical and equipment line.

The local resident is also a member of the Midland Advisory Council, a group of key field personnel working with management in formulating policies and programs for this 60-year-old firm.

A native of New York, Fuzo served with the U. S. Navy as Chief Petty Officer during World War II, and was employed by the U. S. Naval Research and Development Technical Division after the war.

He is a past president of the Rotary Club of Woodstock and presently serves as District Governor's Aid for District 721 of Rotary International. A graduate of Straubennuller Institute of Textile Technology, Hefly Brown School of Business Accounting, Delhanty Institute of Electronics and the U. S. Naval Business Institute Management program, he resides in Woodstock with his wife, Rachel, and two daughters, Marguerite and Geraldine.

DeLisio Is Cited

Paul L. DeLisio was cited recently by Robert S. Hussey, C.L.U., vice-president in charge of New York Life Insurance Company's Northeastern Region, for achieving more than $1,000,000 of production during his first year with the firm.

DeLisio, a resident of Woodstock, is a member of the company's Poughkeepsie general office. He has had the unusual distinction of earning membership in the firm's Star Club during this first year and was recognized at a recent Career Conference for outstanding performance.

A graduate of St. Bonaventure, DeLisio joined New York Life in November of 1965 after separation from active Army duty where he served as a first lieutenant.

Ontora Board Meets

The regular monthly Ontora Board of Education meeting for December will be held tonight in the West Hurley Elementary School No. 2 at 8 o'clock.

The educational topic for the evening is: "The Elementary Science Program." Area residents are cordially invited and again reminded that the meeting is scheduled for tonight.

Speicher Show Set for Albany

Work by the late, great Woodstock artist, Eugene Speicher (1883-1962) will be shown in the first floor galleries of the Albany Institute of History and Art next year. The art show of his paintings is slated from Jan. 2 to Jan. 29, 1967.

Speicher was one of the most important portrait painters in the country during his lifetime. The exhibition at the Institute is the result of a memorial to Speicher held in 1963 at the gallery of the American Academy of Arts and Letters. Speicher bequeathed his paintings to the Academy with the provision that income from their future sale be used to purchase paintings and drawings by contemporary American artists, which are to be presented to art museums in the United States.

The bulk of the paintings lent to the Institute show are from the Academy collection, others are from the Whitney Museum of American Art, The Metropolitan Museum of Art, and The Art Students League of New York, which is lending Speicher's portrait of Georgia O'Keeffe, a famous 20th century painter in her own right.

There has been some inclination on the part of several Woodstock residents to form a group to raise money to purchase Speicher's former residence on Lower Byrdcliffe Road here and utilize it as a museum of Woodstock art. To date, however, the plan has never come close to being a reality.

Letter Praises

Resnick Courage

The following letter has been submitted to this column by Jean B. Miller, Lower Byrdcliffe Road, Woodstock, and is in praise and defense of Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, Ellenville Democrat who represents this district in the House of Representatives:

"During the recent political campaign I worked on Congressman Resnick's staff. This gave me a unique opportunity to get to know several important things about Joe Resnick. Listening to him discuss the main issues of the campaign, observing him as he handled difficult situations, hearing him talk to the many people who come to him for all kinds of help, it is obvious that Joe Resnick is one of those very rare elected officials who has both a brilliant mind and a warm heart.

There were many times during the campaign when well-meaning friends and "experts" would try to advise him on what to do or say "just to get more votes." They wanted him to change his attitude or at least keep quiet on certain issues, give different emphasis to statements in different areas of the Congressional District, make promises and "deals."

"But Joe Resnick would have no part of that. Not one bit of it — ever. He'd never stoop to any action for "political gain." He always acts with honesty and courage and sincerity.

"I know because I saw it happen every day."

Christmas Concert

The annual Christmas Concert presented by the Ontora Music department will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the High School auditorium. The concert was originally scheduled for Monday evening, Dec. 19, but because of a conflict with the Bennett School concert it was changed to an earlier date.

The program will feature the High School Orchestra under the direction of Fritz Wolff, Junior High Chorus and High School Chorus conducted by Earl Proper, Junior High School Band directed by Ronald Westervelt and the High School Band conducted by Harry Simon.

No admission will be charged for this program.

Artists Included In New Booklet

Two artists with Woodstock ties are among those included in a beautifully conceived booklet now being distributed by Chapellier Galleries, East 80th Street, New York. The booklet features 100 American selections presented by the galleries on the occasion of the opening of the 80th Street building, a branch of the mother galleries on Madison Avenue.

Illustrated in the booklet are some of the works available for purchase from the gallery, including several by George Luks and Reginald Marsh, both of whom lived in and were associated with Woodstock art circles during their lifetimes.

Luk's famous "Whiskey Bill" portrait has been reproduced, as has Third Avenue El and Reclining Nude by Marsh. Also in pencil sketch by Luks.

Health for All

Big Job Ahead

Measles, ancient scourge of childhood, now seems well on its way toward the exit door as the new vaccine shows its effects. One by one the old acute contagious diseases have been snuffed out of business in this country by new drugs and vaccines.

But—mark that word acute. It's a different story with regard to the chronic diseases. Today more than 14,000,000 people in the United States still suffer from asthma or hay fever. Chronic bronchitis and emphysema, with severe lung cripples, were found sharply on the rise in a recent five-year mortality study. Emphysema alone killed more than 15,000 people in 1965.

Public health experts have noted a parallel between the picture presented by those chronic respiratory ailments today, and that of tuberculosis at the beginning of the century. Sixty-two years ago a group of public-spirited doctors and laymen decided that TB, then the nation's number one killer, could be and must be controlled. They formed an organization—now called the National Tuberculosis Association—to do something about it.

Today, not solely through the NTA's efforts but with its vital help, the TB death rate has been reduced more than 95 per cent. Although the disease is far from eliminated (it still causes more than 8,000 deaths a year) the effort has paid off handsomely in public benefit.

The TB association, still carrying on this fight, has also taken on those other major diseases of breathing. There is every reason to hope that history will be repeated. But this requires a vast expenditure—not only of work but of funds. The annual Christmas Seal campaign, now in progress, is virtually the only source of the needed financial support.

Those who respond to their Christmas Seal letter (and it isn't a moment too soon to do it) can feel they're putting their money where it will do a vast amount of good.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by Ulster County TB and Health Association, Inc., 124 Green Street.

Successful Launch

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — In the fourth successful dual launch in a series, two satellites were sent into orbit, one with a bit of simulated human tissue to check radiation danger to man, the Air Force reports.

The two 220-pound craft, called OV1-9 and OV1-10, rode into space Sunday atop an Atlas D rocket. They contained 12 radiation-measuring experiments.

Arrives for Duty

Second Lieutenant Phillip W. Morris Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip W. Morris of 2655 Ridge Road, Lansing, Ill., has arrived for duty at Kingsley Air Field, Ore.

His wife, Ann-Louise, is the daughter of Mrs. Louise Stanfield of Clintondale.

Jordan Opens Door Slightly for Arabs

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan has agreed to let in Iraqi and Saudi Arabian troops within two months but only if U.N. peacekeeping forces are withdrawn from the frontier between Israel and the United Arab Republic, a Jordanian government spokesman said Sunday night.

Appears to Check Others
The Jordanian stipulation appeared to check the plans of other Arab leaders to extend their troops further along the Israeli frontier since it was unlikely that the United Nations would remove its forces and risk a further increase in Middle East tensions.

Jordan has expressed fear that foreign troops admitted to its territory would be used to overthrow King Hussein.

Nor was U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, with 55,000 of his troops fully occupied in Yemen, thought to want the U.N. forces withdrawn. He has long sought to curb the military of other Arab leaders, warning that they are unable to wage war successfully on Israel because of their lack of unity.

Patrolled Since 1957

A multinational U.N. force, now numbering about 4,000 men, has patrolled the 145-mile Israel-U.A.R. border since 1957, after the two nations battled in the Sinai Desert.

Jordanian Information Minister Abdul Hamid Sheraf said Jordan's position was presented over the weekend to a meeting in Cairo of the Arab League Defense Council. The council met to consider action following an Israeli attack on three Jordanian border villages Nov. 13.

The U.N. Security Council censured Israel for the attack. Israel said it acted in reprisal for border raids by Arab terrorists.

Reports from Cairo said the Arab Council had forced Jordan to a unanimous decision to let in Iraqi and Saudi Arabian troops. But the minister said the troops could enter Jordan only as part of an over-all Arab military plan agreed on at previous conferences.

Watchdogs Have Home in Beer Can

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — For Rusty and Najo, a couple of high-living dogs with a purpose, life sometimes is confining. But it keeps them off the streets.

The dogs make their home 25 feet above ground on top of a large flat-topped warehouse in Albuquerque. They roam over about one-half acre of roof, keeping away burglars and providing somewhat of a tourist attraction.

"Hey, mister, you got some dogs on your roof," is commonly heard by employees of Southwest Distributing Co.

Rusty, a 7-year-old male Weimaraner, has been on the roof since he was six months old except for brief walks with a company employee charged with his care.

A few months ago, Carlo Bachechi, president of the corporation, decided Rusty needed some company so he put Najo, a 3-year-old German shepherd, on the roof.

The dogs live inside a 20-foot fake can advertising beer. Workmen cut away one side of the can for the doghouse.

"I've never had a burglary since the dogs have been there," said Bachechi.

Castleton Woman Killed in Crash

EAST GREENBUSH, N.Y. (AP) — Barbara Jean McNamara, 17, of nearby Castleton-on-Hudson, was killed late Sunday night when an automobile left Route 9, hit several guard rails and overturned southeast of this Albany suburb.

Her companion, Mark Baker, 20, also of Castleton-on-Hudson, was reported in satisfactory condition at Albany Medical Center Hospital.

Dick Himber Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Band-leader Richard Himber, whose sleight-of-hand magic tricks brought him as much popularity as his music, died Sunday at his home. He was 59.

Himber was found in his Essex House apartment on Central Park South by a building employee. Police tentatively listed the cause of death as a heart attack.

Himber's bands gained popularity during the swing era and he maintained them through the years with greater emphasis on his talents as a magician.

Radar became an important military device during World War II.

LYNCHINGS

When someone is lynched he is executed without the benefit of a legal court trial. The term is named after Charles Lynch, a justice of the peace in Bedford County, Virginia, during the Revolutionary War. There was no court in Lynch's district, therefore he set up his own court to try war prisoners.

When you hear a young fellow bragging about what a cinder his job is, it's a cinch he's not going anywhere.

It must have been a married philosopher who first warned: look before you leap.

Switzerland is still the only modern nation to deny women the vote. Another Swiss characteristic is that it is probably the world's most trouble-free nation.

Rondout Valley Will Give Concert

The Holiday Choral Concert, which will be presented by the Rondout Valley High School Music Department on Saturday, Dec. 17 at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium, will feature an ambitious undertaking by the Senior Choir — the performance of Bach's Cantata No. 142, "To Us a Child Is Born" in an English translation by Walter Ehret. The cantata is made up of eight parts and will be performed by the choir and the Chamber Orchestra.

The orchestra is composed of: Oboes, Lee Herrington, Rondout's Director of Instrumental Music, and David Feinberg; Flutes—Mary Lyons and Lana Slater; Viola—Dr. Robert King, Director of the New Paltz College Symphony Orchestra and a teacher in the college's Music Department; Violins—Miss Arleen Merry, first violinist—elementary instrumental music teacher at Rondout and a violin major, Mrs. Robert King of New Paltz and Diane Falcinelli; Cello—Harry Jensen, student at the University College, New Paltz and cellist in the College Symphony Orchestra. Soloists will be: Steven Schoonmaker, bass; Dale Mayberry, tenor; Sally Shumate, Fran Embree, Nancy Boss and Mary Swenson, altos.

Part one of the Cantata, the Concerto, is performed by the orchestra. The entire Senior Choir performs part two, the chorus "To Us, a Child Is Born"; part three, Air—Thus, Thy Day of Birth Appareth, bass solo; part four, Chorus—Unto His Holy Name Sing Praises; part 5, Air—Lord to Thee Be Thanks, tenor solo. Part six, Recitative—Immanuel, in Thy Great Mercy and Part seven, Air—Lord, to Thee Be Praise, are also solos, an the final chorus, Alleluia, is performed by the entire choir with the orchestra.

The remainder of the program will be detailed next week.

Doing The Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST

DIETARY LAWS POSE SPECIAL PROBLEM

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I read your answer to a Judy F. who observes strict dietary laws because of her religious belief. Judy asked you if she could ask the hostess at a dinner party for a special platter, such as a fruit plate. . . Mrs. Post, I'm sorry to inform you that I was very disappointed with your reply. You told her she should simply refuse the part of the meal which offended her religious belief, or take a small helping of the "forbidden" food and leave it untouched. This is an important question for it has to do with Jewish Orthodox Laws. Therefore, before you answered this question I believe you should have consulted an Orthodox Rabbi.—Mrs. B.

Dear Mrs. B.: As you suggested, I obtained more information on the Orthodox Jewish Laws, and in view of what I learned, I realize you are quite right. It would be quite impossible for Judy to eat the food served to Christians or Reform Jews, and under these circumstances, she might well have requested a small plate of fruit or salad or asked if she might join the party after dinner.

Good Taste Prevailing?

I just returned from walking some 30 blocks in mid-town New York at lunch hour, and in that entire distance I saw three very short skirts, one real mini-skirt, and exactly two men with long hair. Could it be that good sense and good taste are winning out?

A Coat for the Mother-of-the-Bride

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is planning a winter wedding. As mother-of-the-bride I will wear a jacket dress and my mink coat (five-eighths length). Should my coat be worn down the church aisle as I am being ushered to my seat, or should just the jacket dress be worn?—Catherine S.

Dear Mrs. S.: In order to better show off a beautiful dress or a corsage, many mothers prefer not to cover it with a coat. If it is cold in the church, one of the ushers may place it in your pew before you enter, to be draped over your shoulders during the ceremony.

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that we receive each week, we'll send a free copy of Emily Post's Etiquette, revised by Elizabeth L. Post. The question chosen and its answer, will be published in this column every Friday. Send your question to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this newspaper, and don't forget to include your name and address. (C) 1966 by the Emily Post Institute, Inc.

ORATORICAL CONTEST WINNERS — Miss Maryrose Caprotti, left, was named winner in the first phase of the New York State Oratorical Contest held Monday, Dec. 5, under the sponsorship of Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus. Miss Elizabeth Geary, at right, was named first runner-up and will serve as alternate in future contests. Both are seniors at the John Coleman High School in Kingston. Contest subject was "The Church of Today and What Opportunities Are Presented To Our Youth." The district level contest will include winners from the Kingston, Phoenicia, New Paltz, Rhinebeck and Saugerties areas. The state contest will be held at Hotel Commodore in New York in May, 1967 and the winner will receive a $2,000 scholarship with second place receiving $1,600 and third place, $1,200. Bernard F. O'Neil served as chairman of the local contest. (Freeman photo by Wagenföhr).

Named Trustee by Marist College

John A. Roosevelt of Hyde Park and New York City, a member of the Board of Trustees of Marist College, has been appointed chairman of the Marist College Second Contemporary Americans Dinner Committee, according to Brother Linus R. Foy, president of Marist College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The dinner will be held on Saturday, March 18, 1967 at the Hotel Commodore in New York City.

The Contemporary American Awards are presented each year to outstanding living Americans who have contributed in a special way to our American heritage. A commemorative bust of each person so honored is placed in the college academic halls. Further plans will be announced later by Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt is in the process of selecting the dinner committee.

PROFESSOR LECTURES ON CHINA — Principals in the forum on Chinese Civilization which was given by the Division of Social Science at Ulster County Community College on Friday, Dec. 9 in the Governor Clinton Hotel were (l-r) Prof. S. C. Shen; Mrs. Buck; Dean Irmgard Karle; and Dr. J. Lossing Buck, guest speaker. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr).

Agricultural Problems of China Discussed Here By Dr. Buck; UCCC Gave Program

Declining agricultural production poses a serious threat today for Red China, according to Dr. J. Lossing Buck, an outstanding scholar on China.

He made that point Friday night (Dec. 9) in the continuing Forum on Chinese Civilization sponsored by Ulster County Community College at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston.

While China's agricultural production is dipping the population is rising, according to Dr. Buck, meaning there is less food to go around.

"With this situation," the speaker said, "I imagine the people are eating a lot less."

Before the Chinese Communists took over the country, more than half the farms were owned by the families who worked them, according to Dr. Buck. He said the Communists took over all the farms and formed cooperatives.

"The Communists take over of the private farms is one reason for the production decline," Dr. Buck declared.

Because the farmers had strong feelings for their animals, he explained, they killed their animals rather than turn them over to the cooperatives.

Since agriculture production declined under the Communist farm setup, Red China finally decided to give the farmers a small private plot each in addition to the land used by the cooperatives in an effort to improve their morale and spur production. Food grown on these plots can be sold on the open market.

"Peking now is worried that the farmers are becoming too capitalistic," Dr. Buck said, "but I fear there will be serious trouble if an effort is made to take these private plots away from the farmers."

Although China has a large population, Dr. Buck said there is a labor shortage for planting and harvesting crops. "Consequently," he added, "it's important to find some way of doing these things faster. In that area, some form of mechanization is needed."

Dr. Buck believes it is possible for Chinese agriculture to sustain the population. "What is needed," he said, "are better land use, more irrigation, better fertilizers, better seed, improved transportation and more improved storage facilities."

Rice is China's major crop, but beans are being tried more readily as crops.

Dr. Buck said the Nationalist Chinese government had worked out a plan of land reform before World War II, but explained that the war had delayed its implementation. He said this land reform actually was tried out near the end of the war in a province near Chungking, but unfortunately never received any publicity in any of the news media.

Dr. Buck's topic was "Agriculture as Depicted in Chinese Art," and he illustrated it with slides of 45 stone rubbings and 45 woodcuts.

More than 100 persons attended the Forum sponsored by the College's Social Science Division. Shu-Chin Shen, an assistant pro-

Saratoga Arts Center Still Has Deficit; 99 Per Cent Pledged

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—The Saratoga Performing Arts Center is "a long way from achieving a financially sound operation" even though 99 per cent of a $4-million capital fund has been donated or pledged the center's president says.

Gene Robb, publisher of the Albany Times-Union and the Knickerbocker News, said Saturday the center's "tentative budget forecasts a substantial operating deficit for the forthcoming year."

The 99 per cent achievement was announced following a meeting of the center's board of directors. Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the governor's wife, was re-elected chairman and Robb was retained as president. John Hay Whitney was chosen as vice president, a post previously unfilled.

In sounding the cautious note despite the fund drive's success, Robb said "it seems evident we shall attain a sound financial footing only by developing a yet more help from educational and other such vehicles as program through which we can 'the State Council on the Arts.'"

"To Us a Child Is Born."

Several area students heard as soloists in both the Bach and Saint-Saens works were sopranos Miss Irva Beatty, New Paltz; Miss Lois Gerlach, New Salem, and Misses Mary Ann McCullough and Marjorie Whitaker, Kingston.

The contralto soloists were Miss Coralie Orr, Kingston, and the tenor soloist was Albert Mikitarian, Catskill.

Five bass soloists heard were Paul Huth, Esopus; Edwin Mulford, Windham; David Godbey and Richard Nardone, Kingston, and Quentin Oakley, New Paltz. Dr. John F. Park, coordinator of music at the college, conducted the presentation and the concert pianist was Mrs. Alan W. Sparks, Woodstock. Dr. Park is organist and choirmaster at Trinity Lutheran Church, while Mrs. Sparks is accompanist for the Catskill Glee Club.

The text for the Camille Saint-Saens oratorio, which was sung in English, is taken from Biblical sources and from the Midnight Mass for Christmas and the Office of the Day. The cantata, usually attributed to J. S. Bach, was sung in a new English translation by Walter Ehret.

253 Are X-rayed At RV School

The X-ray follow-up and recent X-raying in Kingston have brought the newly established School X-ray Program to current status. John M. Robbins, president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, announced today. The School X-ray Program was organized by the TB Christmas Seal group in cooperation with the Ulster County Department of Health.

All results of the School X-ray Program in the county schools now have been reported by the TB Association, showing that of the original X-raying done Sept. 12, at the Rondout Valley Central School 253 persons were X-rayed.

1st School X-Ray Since '63

The county-wide program was made possible by the TB Association in conjunction with all of the schools in Ulster County as a major program to protect Ulster County youth from TB. The X-ray program and scheduling was organized and directed by E. Robert Johnson, TB Association Executive Director, who developed the project; at the Rondout Valley Central Schools with Dr. Ted T. Grenda, superintendent of schools; and James Davis, principal at the high school. The program represents the county's first X-ray Program on the school level since 1963.

The Rondout Valley Central School X-ray unit was located by the TB group at the high school on Kyserville Road. John announced that 253 faculty, staff and bus drivers were X-rayed. At the Rondout High School, staff and registration volunteers who assisted at the X-ray site were: Mrs. Franklin Kelder, Mrs. Glenn Carle both of Accord; Miss Almena Porter, R.N., and Miss Mabel Robinson, R.N., both TB-RD Association.

"By this shared-cost program, the Ulster County TB and Health Association has taken positive steps to help protect our youth against TB infection," Johnson pointed out. Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., Association President emeritus and 1966 honorary Ulster County Christmas Seal Chairman noted, "we have pledged Ulster County Christmas Seal dollars directly in support of this serious health program. Because the old, familiar state X-ray bus is no longer regularly available, our TB Christmas Seal group procured a commercial unit from the Powers X-ray Service, and took the unit throughout the county to all the county school systems. X-rayed all faculty, staff and bus drivers at all school locations."

Of the 253 total staff X-rayed at the school, Johnson reported readings indicate 6 were of some form of abnormality; 246 were normal, and 1, due to technical problems will be X-rayed again.

Kept on File

All persons with normal X-ray reports have been notified directly by the TB Association office and schools also were provided with negative reports. All abnormal X-rays have been reported by the TB group to the Ulster County Department of Health, under the direction of Dr. Vernon B. Link, Commissioner of Health, conducting all follow-up of this X-ray work. Full X-ray records for all school staff of each of the County Centralized School Systems are being maintained as a permanent School X-ray file at TB Association Seal headquarters, Kingston, as an essential part of the TB School Health Service. This will be available at all time for reference to school officials and physicians.

"The County TB Christmas Seal Association has taken positive steps to develop this program and will provide it as an annual School Health Service," Dr. Holcomb pointed out. "Each school played a part of the cost of each X-ray. We believe our Ulster County people should know that they also have helped inasmuch as their Christmas Seal dollars covered the full balance of X-ray plate cost, reading expense and all program expenditure through the Association's Christmas Seal Health Program Fund."

Now a reality, the School X-ray Program is based on recommendations of the National Tuberculosis Association and the United States Surgeon-General's TB Task Force Report for providing protection to school age youth by screening the adult school staff around them. Other area persons who supported the TB Association's School X-ray Program were: Percy Gazlay of Accord, Rochester Township Christmas Seal chairman, and Mrs. A. J. Anderson, Christmas Seal chairman at Kerhokson.

Realtors to Meet Thursday Night

The Ulster County Board of Realtors will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Adele Royael, president, urges all members to make a special effort to attend this meeting.

Action will be taken on three applications for membership and revised by-laws presented at the November meeting will be acted upon.

At a date to be announced Attorney S. James Matthews, who is instructor of the Real Estate Course at the Community College, will conduct a tour of the new Ulster County Clerk's record rooms for the realtors and their salesmen.

Bishop Guest Tonight

Columbiettes of Kingston Council No. 275, Knights of Columbus, will have Bishop James E. McManus, episcopal vicar of Ulster and Sullivan Counties and Rt. Rev. Monsignor John J. O'Reilly, Dean of Ulster County and Chaplain of the Columbiettes, as honored guests at their annual Christmas Covered Dish Supper and Party, tonight. A brief meeting will be held between the buffet and party, with the buffet served at 7 p. m. All members are reminded to bring a gift for the Infirmary and an exchange gift.

ported the TB Association's School X-ray Program were: Percy Gazlay of Accord, Rochester Township Christmas Seal chairman, and Mrs. A. J. Anderson, Christmas Seal chairman at Kerhokson.

Supervisor To Speak

Mrs. Marian Gregory, St. Joseph's Elementary School supervisor, will speak on "The Changing Social Studies Program" at a meeting of the St. Joseph's Parents Association on Tuesday at 8 p. m. A Christmas party will be another highlight of the meeting, with gifts being exchanged by members.

Officials said teachers will be available for conference with parents any time after 7:30 o'clock.

The Joiners

News of Fraternal and Civic Organizations

Rondout Commandery 52, Knights Templars, will hold its regular stated convocation Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. in the Masconic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue, with full form opening. Refreshments will be served in the dining room by the ladies following the meeting and all Sir Knights are invited to attend.

Ulster Community Scores 87-66 Win Over Adirondack

Ventriglia Makes U.S. Olympic Squad

Eugene Ventriglia, who shattered the existing soccer records at New Paltz State, is one of 25 soccer players named Sunday to the U. S. Olympic team.

The players, chosen after two days of competition at Washington State University in St. Louis, will compete in the 1967 Pan-American Games and the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City.

In the two-day tryout, Ventriglia scored three goals and added an assist. His Eastern team was beaten on Saturday, 3-2, with the New Paltz ace getting both of the goals.

Ventriglia had a goal and an assist on Sunday as the all-star team he was on scored a 2-1 decision.

Al Miller, New Paltz State soccer coach, was elated over Ventriglia's selection. "This is an honor, not only to Eugene but to his school, the students and the community," Miller said.

Ulster Wrestlers Set For Opening Thursday

Ulster County Community College's wrestling team is making steady progress in conditioning for the opening of its season Thursday. Coach Mark Cranfield said today.

The first match will be at Dutchess Community College.

"The wrestlers are working very hard and making good progress," coach Cranfield said. "But they have a long way to go to gain experience in competition."

He said the Mid-Hudson Valley is a good region for wrestling. "All of the teams we will wrestle will be tough and most of their wrestlers will have an edge on experience over our team members. Nevertheless, we hope to make a good showing."

The UCCO team captain is Hugh Spolaric, Ontario, a veteran from last year, who will wrestle in the 130-pound class. "Spolaric is one of our few team members with experience," coach Cranfield said, "and we're relying on him heavily in the coming campaign."

Perry Shows Promise

Ray DeGiorgi, Kingston, will fill the 137-pound spot on the team, and Mike Carroll, Waukegan, Long Island, will wrestle in the 145-pound class. Lou Perry, Kingston, who coach Cranfield said has made rapid progress for a beginner, is expected to wrestle in the 152-pound class.

Paul Mihic, Huntington, L. I., will fill the 160-pound weight class, and with additional experience, according to the coach, should do well against most of his opponents.

Larry Huggins, Harpersville, will wrestle at 167 pounds, and Steve Rozzi, Highland, will be at the 177-pound weight. Both are new to wrestling but show promise.

At the 191-pound weight, an optional weight class, will be Mike Buckley, Catskill, a former Marine who recently received the Silver Star for gallantry in Viet Nam.

Steve Kinkelberg, Queens, L. I., will wrestle in the heavyweight class.

Senators Turn In Team Effort For 3rd Victory

Shooting at a better than 60 per cent clip from the floor, the Senators of Ulster Community College rebounded from their loss to Orange Community with an easy, 87-66, triumph Saturday at the Adirondack Community College.

Coach Mike Perry's quintet jumped to a 40-29 halftime lead and never fell behind in the second half. In capturing their third game in four starts, the Senators did it with a good team effort with five players scoring in double figures.

Ronnie Lindsay, the former KHS ace, led the way with 19 points. Brad Meyer finished with 15 while Rod Chando, Jim Groff and Bill Zilliox had 10 points each.

The Senators are idle until Thursday when they play at Dutchess Community College in a 4 p. m. Mid-Hudson Conference game. Ulster returns home Saturday to play Kingsboro.

Who Wants Title Game With Green Bay Packers?

Dallas, St. Louis, Browns All Lose

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Doesn't anybody want to start the new year with the Green Bay Packers for company?

The Dallas Cowboys, given a clear shot at trailing Jan. 1 date with the Packers in the National Football League championship game, inadvertently backed off Sunday, bowing to Washington 34-31 on a Charley Gogolak field goal with eight seconds to play.

Neither St. Louis nor Cleveland, however, profited from the Dallas setback. Atlanta's surprising young Falcons upended the punchless Cards 16-10 and Philadelphia, sparked by Al Nelson's 100-yard touchdown burst, ended the Browns' title hopes 33-21.

The three form reversals left the Eastern Conference title still up for grabs going into the final weekend of the campaign.

Assured of Tie
The Cowboys, assured of no worse than a first-place tie, can take their first division crown if second-place St. Louis stumbles against Cleveland Saturday.

Should the Cards beat the Browns, Dallas must either win or tie at New York next Sunday to avert a playoff with St. Louis.

Green Bay clinched its second straight Western Conference title by downing Baltimore 14-10 Saturday and will be the visiting team in the NFL championship battle.

In Sunday's other action, Pittsburgh crushed the defenseless Giants 47-28; San Francisco drubbed Chicago 41-14 and Minnesota trounced Detroit 28-16.

Gogolak's 29-yard field goal decided a free-wheeling offensive duel between the Redskins, led by veteran passer Sonny Jurgensen, and the explosive Cowboys.

The Cowboys, who had nipped the "Skins 31-30 in their first meeting on a last-ditch field goal by Danny Villanueva, appeared to have the rematch sewed up when Don Perkins' six-yard touchdown bolt sent them ahead 31-24 with less than five minutes to play.

But Jurgensen struck back immediately with his third TD pass of the game, a 65-yard bomb to Charley Taylor, and the Redskins pulled it out when A.D. Whitfield broke loose on a 30-yard run to set up Gogolak's soccer-style boot.

Randy Johnston hit Ernie Wheelwright with a nine-yard scoring pass, Lou Kiriouac kicked three field goals and Atlanta's defense held the sagging Cardinals touchdown-less until the final 64 seconds as the Falcons won their second game in a row and third of the season.

The Eagles eliminated Cleveland from the Eastern race, scoring three touchdowns — including Nelson's 100-yard gallop with a missed Lou Groza field goal try — in the second period. Sam Baker added four field goals as Philadelphia climbed into a third-place deadlock with the Browns.

Bill Nelsen fired two touchdown passes and Bill Asbury and rookie Dick Lefftridge each ran for two scores in the Steelers' victory over a New York club that now has yielded 484 points — an all-time record. Tom Kennedy passed for four Giant touchdowns, but the Pittsburgh point-barrage doomed New York to the Eastern cellar.

Defensive backs Kermit Alexander and Alvin Randolph backed the Bears as San Francisco stayed in the running for second-place in the West. Alexander scored twice, going 14 yards with a fumble and 44 with a punt, while Randolph sped 94 yards with a pass theft for another touchdown.

Three touchdowns passed by Fran Tarkenton shot Minnesota past the Lions, who tumbled into the Western basement. Jim Phillips, Paul Flatley and Preston Carpenter grabbed Tarkenton payoff tosses.

The Packers won the West Saturday by overcoming a 10-7 Baltimore lead in the closing minutes and then stopping a final Colt drive when linebacker Dave Robinson pounced on a John Unitas fumble at the Green Bay 11.

Zeke Bratkowski, who replaced injured Bart Starr in the second half, engineered the Packers' winning 58-yard march, and Elijah Pitts capped it with a two-yard plunge for his second touchdown of the day.

Hub, DeMico Motors, Mirror Lake Gain Wins

Hub Delicatessen is the team to beat in the Kingston Recreation Basketball League.

With Jumpin' Joe Uhl rimming 35 points, Hub easily defeated Beaumont's, 120-35, as the circuit opened last night at the Municipal Auditorium.

In other contests, DeMico Motors scored a 68-47 win over Whitman Electric and Mirror Lake Lodge stopped Stone Ridge, 65-56.

The Hub cagers didn't even work up a sweat against their opponents. It was a 64-19 game at halftime. Uhl had 17 baskets and a foul shot in three periods.

Bob Bondar hit for 23. Chick Boice 19, Bill Fitzgerald 14 and Joe Klonowski 12.

DeMico Motors overcame a 16-13 first period deficit and outscored their opponents the rest of the way. Ken Hurlburt rimmed 26 points to pace the winners. Bill Itzla had 14 for Whitman.

Wally Lucas threw in 31 points and Frank Passante had 10 for Mirror Lake. Cliff Schoonmaker and Bill Egan, a pair of former Ulster Community College cagers, divided 39 points for Stone Ridge.

Locals Dropped To Third Place In Soccer Loop

By Charles J. Tiano

(Freeman Sports Editor)

Minus five regulars, including the incomparable Gene Ventriglia, the Kingston Sport Club Kickers were neither ready nor equal to the big grudge game of the season Sunday at Oehler's.

The tough Yonkers city club scored two second half goals to edge the Kickers, 3-2, and plunge them into a three-way tie for third place with their conquerors and White Plains.

Bridgeport squeaked by Bavarrians of New York, 2-1, to take sole possession of first place with 18 points. White Plains humbled Stamford, 5-1, moving into second place on 17 points.

Goals by Jimmy Reinhardt (10 minutes) and Al Miller (42 minutes) gave Kingston a 2-1 half-time margin, the visitors having scored at the 25-minute mark.

After Yonkers had picked up the equalizer at 50 minutes and forged ahead, 3-2, at 82 minutes, Kurt Vick of Kingston had a chance to score the equalizer but his boot hit the goal post and bounced back into the playing area.

Three Others Missing

In addition to Ventriglia, who was in St. Louis making the U.S. Olympics squad, the Kickers were without the services of Toni and Nick Alexander, Bill Newmashinsky and veteran Alex Dirks, all benched by injuries.

Spring Valley comes to Kingston for the season's finale next Sunday.

The Kingston lineup: Goal—Timo Lickoski; RFB—Lee Roberts; LFB—George Vizlav; RBH—Richie Lotze; CH—Winifred Sodermann; LHB—Ron Briggs; OF—Kurt Vick; IR—Al Miller; CR—Jimmy Reinhardt; IL—Reiner Schwebel; OL—Walt Grasmeyer.

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP)—A five-man team from Chula Vista, Calif., holds the first annual Winchester National Claybird Tournament championship today after a close battle with a team from Greene, N.Y.

The California squad, representing the western region, kept its composure during the last heated round to post an 1818 x 2000 score, clipping Greene, representing the northeast, which shot an 1804 x 2000, by 14 birds.

In third place was the Southeast team from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., which shot 1788 x 2000.

The Midwest team, from Columbus, Ohio, fired a 1772 x 2090 for fourth place.

The Greene team had led in early rounds followed closely by the Midwest. The Californians, from the Otay Winchester Public Shooting Center, moved up from third place on the strength of their skeet scores.

Each squad was composed of shooters in five categories ranging from novice to expert.

Colgate Heads For a Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Colgate's basketball team is being listed in the record books this year, but with the kind of notice that no team is fond of. Rutgers swamped the Red Raiders 118-75, Saturday for the New Jersey team's highest point total ever. Last year, Rutgers ran up 108 points in beating Glassboro State.

Demolish Duke

The 7-foot-1 Alcindor and his mates ran their record to 3-0 by completing a twin killing of seventh-ranked Duke at Los Angeles, 107-87.

Friday night, the Blue Devils tripled teamed Alcindor, and he scored just 19 points but passed off for many others as the Bruins won 88-54, Saturday, the sensational sophomore was only doubled teamed and scored 28.

He scored 36 against Southern California in his varsity debut.

Following Saturday's game, Alcindor did little to help opposing coaches sleep by saying:

"I am seeing some of the mistakes I'm making on defense and I hope I am correcting them."

Pat Riley's two foul shots with only two seconds left gave third-ranked Kentucky a 118-116 victory over Northwestern at Evansville, Ill., in another key game Saturday night. The victory followed an overtime defeat by Illinois.

Two other ranked teams also had trouble before winning Saturday. No. 4 Louisville had to go two overtimes on its home court before beating Southern Illinois 70-66 and Cincinnati, No. 10, needed an extra period to edge Miami of Ohio 45-44 at its home floor.

The other three members of the Top Ten to see action — No. 5 Houston, New Mexico and No. 9 Brigham Young — won easily. No. 8 North Carolina was idle.

Houston smashed Hawaii 93-59, New Mexico trounced Texas Tech 80-59 and Brigham Young walloped St. Mary's of California 108-57. All three were home court victories.

Over 140 attractive sources of employment in business, industry, hospitals, national parks, ranches, resorts, hotels, motels, restaurants, camps, schools, theatres, and tours are given for New York State alone.

Interested persons are urged to make inquiries early.

Rangers Alone Atop the NHL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just in case Notre Dame and Michigan State are interested, there's no question among New York Ranger fans today about who's No. 1.

Midway through the third period of New York's 4-2 victory over Montreal fans at Madison Square Garden started chanting "We're No. 1."

And about an hour later, after Detroit had whipped Toronto 4-1 and Boston had battled back to tie Chicago 2-2, the Rangers were indeed, No. 1.

The Rangers have lost just two games in the last 15 and have shot from last place to the top of the league. They are one point ahead of the Black Hawks and Maple Leafs, who are tied for second.

Rules Ga. Solons Have Right to Pick Governor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today that the Georgia Legislature has the right to pick the state's next governor by choosing between Republican Howard H. Callaway and Democrat Lester G. Maddox.

"There is no provision of the United States Constitution or any of its amendments which either expressly or impliedly dictates the method a state may use to select its governor," Justice Hugo L. Black said in delivering the high court's 7-2 decision.

With the ruling the Supreme Court upheld the validity of a 142-year-old section of the Georgia Constitution which provides that when no candidate for governor gets a majority of the popular vote in an election the state legislature is to choose between the two top vote-getters.

That section had been held unconstitutional Nov. 17 by a three-judge federal court in Atlanta. Today's decision reverses the lower court.

Arrests Climax

Thomas Barone, 23, of 36 North Avenue, Beacon.

Anthony Salvatore Fiordilino, 22, of 36 Millrock Road, New Paltz.

Stephen Bragonier, 19, of Planadome.

Ronald Eisenberg, 18, of New Paltz and 50 East 196th Street, Bronx.

Robert Ira Simon, 20, of 92 Kirkwood Street, Long Beach, L. I., and Route 32, New Paltz.

Anthony James D'Alatri, 19, of Lincoln Avenue, Beacon.

Two Are Students

Dr. William Haggerty, president of State University College at New Paltz, denied reports of other news media that most of those arrested were students at the college. He told The Freeman this morning that two of the accused youths are students, and one is a former student. He did not identify the students.

Senior BCI Investigator Michael Lisman, who with Senior Investigator Edward Shannon, figured prominently in the narcotics arrests said Bragonier and Simon claimed to be college students and Eisenberg was identified as a drop-out.

Two arrests were made at Ellenville by Senior Investigator Michael Mahoney, BCI Investigator Charles Teelon and Police Chief Abe Rand of the Ellenville police department. They were identified as Ralph Wynekop, 21, and Nelson Lopez, 26, both of Ellenville. The arrests were made on bench warrants.

Investigators said all defendants were committed to jail pending disposition of the felony charges lodged against them, as the result of the grand jury inquiry.

Torraca Praises Agencies

Torraca complimented all agencies that participated in the crackdown on narcotics. Prior to the Saturday night arrests, Torraca noted that operation UNCLE had carried out several raids in the county, including one in which officers reportedly seized $60,000 worth of LSD. Torraca also noted that about six months ago, agents working in the area arrested nine persons, who were accused of participating in heroin and other narcotic drugs traffic in the area.

Torraca said that presently, district attorneys of Dutchess and Orange Counties are co-operating with his office in conducting narcotics inquiries in the three-county area.

ing nearly 600 seized by U.S. units. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has been said to be willing to "offer an uneven exchange" for U.S. airmen held in the north.

As of mid-October, official U.S. figures listed 334 Americans as missing in action, with 78 of those confirmed captured in the north and south.

Thus far attempts to arrange a prisoner exchange with North Vietnam have been unsuccessful.

B52s Pummel . . .

—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge left by plane for the United States to spend the Christmas holidays with his family. Lodge has scoffed at speculation that he would not return.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said some North Vietnamese MIG pilots duck across the border of Red China to escape pursuit by American jet fighters.

"Certainly I am positive that in some cases, when they decide to retreat, they go north," the spokesman said. He added, however, that he had no information that the North Vietnamese are using bases in China either to launch aerial missions or as a sanctuary.

Repel Cong Assaults

In ground action, South Vietnamese infantrymen beat back three assaults today by an estimated Viet Cong battalion — about 500 men — in two and a half hours of fighting 44 miles east of Da Nang. The government forces took light casualties and killed 20 of the attackers.

A reinforced platoon of up to 50 men from the U.S. 1st Infantry Division suffered heavy casualties Sunday in a fierce fight with an enemy force of unknown size about 10 miles north of Tay Ninh City. A U.S. spokesman said 26 Communists were killed. The clash was in War Zone C about 40 miles northwest of Saigon, an area of heavy fighting in Operation Attleboro last month.

Ground fighting elsewhere was small and scattered, both the U.S. and Vietnamese military commands reported.

Release Statistics

U.S. headquarters announced that 442 American planes and four helicopters have been lost over North Vietnam since the start of the air offensive in August 1964. Over South Vietnam, headquarters said, 141 U.S. planes have gone down in combat and more than 240 helicopters have been lost since January 1961.

Over North Vietnam, U.S. jet fighters, bombers, flew through thunderstorms and low clouds Sunday on 85 bombing missions. Pilot reported destroying or damaging seven bridges, 13 junks and barges, an anti-aircraft gun site, 16 staging and storage areas, and two bridges northwest of Dong Hoi.

The B52 raid on the Mu Gia Pass was the third by the huge bombers on this key target. The Guam-based Stratofortis struck the pass last April 12 — in the first B52 raid over North Vietnam — and again on April 27.

A malignant tumor was discovered Saturday to have nearly consumed a lymph node in Ruby's neck. Doctors said it signified there were other sites and that the cancer was advanced.

Whatever the results of this week's tests, Dr. Sanford said, "I do not expect he will be able to go to court" as early as February as was possible.

Another member of the medical team said Sunday that Ruby could live "a month or five years. We just don't know until we run more tests to find where the tumors originated."

highway. Troopers said James Kirthheart of Saugerties, happened along and found Riley in the overturned vehicle. Kirthheart smashed the rear window of Riley's car with a tire iron and pulled the man from the vehicle seconds before it burst into flames.

Riley was taken to Benedictine Hospital at 2:40 a. m. by Doctors Ambulance Service. He was treated for leg, chest and head injuries.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rally widened its gains in active trading early this afternoon.

Auto stocks were buoyed by a statement from General Motors Chairman Frederic G. Donner who said the auto industry may be heading for one of its best years in history.

GM common spurted more than 2 points in an unusual show of strength. Ford advanced more than a point. Chrysler nearly a point, American Motors a fraction.

Oils were buoyed by an optimistic Wall Street estimate of earnings and produced a string of moderate gains.

Chemicals, rails, aerospace issues, airlines, electronics, drugs and building materials were among the gainers.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 6.13 at $19.15, coming close to its Nov. 16 recovery high of 820.87.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.1 at 289.0 with industrials up 2.3, rails up .2 and utilities up .2.

Hess Oil, up 1, had the additional benefit of news about its new oil refinery and a forecast of higher earnings. Texaco was up about a point. Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Standard of Indiana fractions.

Sperry Rand rose 1 to 29 1/2, on 10,000 shares. Xerox gained 5 1/2. Prices advanced in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Flooding Hits Midwest Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair weather took the edge off winter in large sections of the nation today, but days of rain brought minor flooding to areas of the Midwest.

Several highways in Ohio were closed when rivers spilled over their banks. Flooding in Illinois caused crop damage. The Maumee River in northwestern Ohio forced the closing of several roads including part of U.S. 24 near Defiance. The Scioto River is approaching flood stage from Laue in central Ohio to Piketon in the southern part of the state.

The flooding of the Kaskaskia River near Vandalia in southern Illinois has caused more than $100,000 damage to crops. The river broke through a levee Saturday and inundated 4,000 acres of farmland.

Cloudless skies prevail across most of the nation today, especially in the East, the central states and the Southwest.

A gradual warmup was forecast as southerly breezes moved into the central and northern Plains.

Mohawk Increases

would be "physically impossible" to restore service to those points.

In addition, 10 more flights will be added to Albany and eight more to Binghamton, the spokesman said. Operations at both cities had been curtailed but not halted.

Mohawk is operating about 75 per cent of its flights by using jets, which, company spokesmen have said, can be maintained by supervisory personnel. All piston-engine flights have been suspended.

The airline, largest regional carrier in the country, serves New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Washington, E.C., Detroit, Mich. and Toronto. Negotiations aimed at resolving the differences were broken off Friday night.

Capitol News In Brief

Plan Postal Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department is considering seriously whether to ask Congress to increase postal rates.

A Post Office spokesman said over the weekend the increase is needed because of a "very, very tight" fiscal situation. He explained the department now has about $1.2 billion in deficits.

"One way or another, the users of the mail are going to have to pay for the service they get," he said, "whether it is from the general treasury (taxes) or in postage."

The spokesman said a decision is expected soon. If the increase is sought, he added, it probably would affect all classes of mail except parcel post, whose rates were increased earlier this year.

The last general increase in postal rates was approved by Congress in 1962 and went into effect in 1963. A similar deficit problem existed then, the spokesman said.

Personal Income Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department has reported a small but healthy increase in personal income last month that government economists believe should lessen inflationary pressures bearing on President Johnson's decision whether to increase taxes.

But Johnson, who has indicated he will wait until January to decide, also must weigh other factors in the economy.

Nevertheless, the personal income hike was the third major economic indicator to slacken during November. The government reported last week that retail sales dropped 1 per cent and the second straight month.

In its report Sunday night, the Commerce Department said personal income rose by $3.2 billion at an annual rate during November to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $597.6 billion.

Capital Footnotes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The U.S. Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a two-day public affairs conference Feb. 1-2 in Washington to size up the 90th Congress and the 1967 legislative outlook.

The U.S. Office of Education says colleges tripled their education expenditures from $5 billion to $15.2 billion during the last decade while elementary and high schools doubled their spending from $15.5 billion to $29.6 billion.

Sand Before Re-Painting

Shaded areas, such as under the eaves, do not get sun and fail to lose their gloss. These areas should be sanded before repainting to avoid peeling.

Kennedy Challenges FBI: Bare Eavesdropping File

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has challenged FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to make public his entire file on who authorized what eavesdropping while Kennedy was attorney general.

The New York Democrat fired the challenge Sunday night in a new round of the Kennedy-Hoover disagreement which erupted Saturday.

The furor opened with publication of a Hoover letter which said Kennedy knew all about FBI eavesdropping.

Kennedy said he didn't, that Hoover "has been misinformed." Hoover said Kennedy's retort was "absolutely inconceivable." Hoover produced a document backing his stand from the same FBI official Kennedy had quoted for his side.

Then Kennedy called for Hoover to make his entire file public. "There is no indication that Mr. Hoover ever asked me for authorization for any single bugging device," said Kennedy.

Another former attorney general, Kennedy successor Nicholas Katzenbach, emerged as a sort of would-be peacemaker with a terse statement giving credit to each side and in essence chalking the dispute up to misunderstanding.

Meanwhile, the practical effects of hidden surveillance were scored in New York by

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. "We can't pick up a phone in Washington without fear and trepidation that someone is listening in," he said in a television interview on WNBC-TV's "Man n Office."

"I don't know who is doing it," said Celler. "The abuse of these devices is all over. Whatever benefit they might be for the police departments, it is far outweighed by the danger implicit in them."

The Hoover letter, to Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, said use of wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping equipment increased during Kennedy's stint as attorney general, from 1961 until 1964.

Approval First

Hoover said the FBI had always followed a practice "that no interception was to be undertaken or continued without first obtaining the approval of the attorney general."

Kennedy's office retorted with a letter from Courtney A. Evans, assistant FBI head during Kennedy's term as attorney general, who said he did not know of any discussion or correspondence with Kennedy concerning use of microphones for eavesdropping.

Evans' letter said prior attorney general had told the FBI that attorney general approval was needed only for telephone taps, but not other buggings.

Report Upstater Hits Mayor's Car

A driver was booked on two charges early today after the car he drove allegedly struck the parked car of Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan on Fair Street near Maiden Lane, and a pedestrian was injured on Clifton Avenue Sunday.

A police report at 1:37 a. m. today said a car driven by J. Sykes, 34, of 131 North Sixth Street, Mechanicsville, had struck the mayor's car.

Sykes was charged with heading the wrong way on a one-way street and with driving while intoxicated. Officers George Baringer and Douglas Longo investigated. Sykes pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated in city court today and was fined $50 plus revocation of his license. The other charge was dismissed.

Damage to the mayor's car was today estimated as close to $1,000.

Kathleen Kelder, 19, of 303 Springtown Road, New Paltz, was treated at Kingston Hospital for leg and hip injuries, police said after she was struck by a car driven by Thomas J. Mooney, 28, of 423 Delaware Avenue, on Clifton Avenue near Hayes Street, at 1:47 a. m. Sunday. Officers Otto Short and Patrick Colbert, who investigated, said she was standing in the street while a tire was being changed.
